MUSIC SUPPLEMENT TO LUTE NEWS 158 (JULY 2026): MUSIC BY DOWLAND'S CONTINENTAL CONTACTS

To give an impression of the lute music John Dowland might have heard on his travels abroad this supplement includes lute solos ascribed to composers who Dowland met or could have met as their paths crossed at approximately the same time.[1]

MORITZ LANDGRAVE VON HESSEN-KASSEL (1572-1632)

Dowland was on friendly terms with Moritz Landgrave of Hesse both during his visits to the court in Kassel in 1594/5 and 1596 and in their subsequent correspondence.[2] Moritz offered Dowland a permanent post in Kassel in 1598 (see fn 2) but instead he accepted a post with Christian IV King of Denmark (r.1588-1648) who he had met in Kassel in 1595. Moritz succeeded his father as Landgrave of Hesse in 1592 and he abdicated in 1627 in favour of his son Wilhelm. Moritz was highly educated earning the epithet 'Moritz der Gelehrte' (Maurice the Learned).[3] He was a renowned patron of the arts and music. He was also a musician and composed a considerable amount of music for voices and instrumental ensemble,[4] and a dozen lute solos ascribed to him by name (Moritz/Mauritio d'alto Monte - as the Kassel court was known due to its location on a hill), title (Landgrave) or initials M.L.H (for Moritz Landgraf von Hessen), are reproduced here.

Moritz and second wife Juliana and children by Jacob van der Heyden[5]

Five of them (M4/7/9/10/11) are found in the lute book D-Kl 4° Mus. 108 I and were presumably composed/arranged by Moritz for him to play in private or at informal family occasions. One is a courante dedicated to Princesse Elizabeth (M10) and another titled 'Landgraves Alman' that is an arrangement of the popular tune 'Gar lustig ist spazieren gehen'[6] - alternatively the latter may be an arrangement by someone else and dedicated to Moritz. Of the lute solos in other sources, one is an arrangement of a German song 'Ursach habe ich zu klagen' (M6) ascribed to 'Landgraf in Hessen', presumably meaning Moritz, is found in the lute manuscript Leipzig II.6.15 dated 1619.[7] The relative simplicity of the above contrast with the much more accomplished pavan in Robert Dowland's Varietie of Lute Lessons of 1610 and 'made by the most magnificent and famous Prince Mauritius Landgraue of Hessen, and from him sent to my father,[8] with this inscription following, and written with his GRACES owne hand: Mauritius Landgrauius Heßiae fecit in honorem Ioanni Doulandi Anglorum Orphei' [Maurice, Landgrave of Hesse, composed this in honor of John Dowland, the Orpheus of the English]. However, the pavan includes frequent figuration found in lute solos by John Dowland[9] so it seems likely that Dowland co-composed it with Moritz when he was in Kassel. We do not know in what form Moritz sent it to John, whether as lute tablature 'in his owne hand' or as a mensural score) so it is possible it was an ensemble setting and John arranged it for lute.

Four more lute solos (M1/3/7/8) were also most likely ensemble pieces by Moritz intabulated for lute by others although I have not identified their models amongst his known works. M12 is a lute setting of Psalm 82, one of twenty-two psalm settings ascribed M.L.H. in Reymann's Cythara Sacra of 1613 that are probably Reymann's or another's intabulations of ensemble psalm settings by Moritz rather than lute settings Moritz arranged and played himself.

M1. Varietie 1610, sigs. H2v-I1 Pauin. 1 4-6
Here beginneth the Pauins: of which the first was made by the most magnificent and famous Prince Mauritius Landgraue of Hessen and from him sent to my Father, with this inscription following, and written with his GRACES owne hand: Mauritius Landgrauius Hessiæ fecit in honorem Ioanni Doulandi Anglorum Orphei

M2. Rude II 1600, sig. hh6r 107 Pavana di Mauritio d'alto Monte 7

M3. D-Dl I-V-8, f. 63v Galliarda M. L. H. à 4 8

M4. D-Kl 4° 108 I, f. 26r Courante M.L.H 10
- Es wolt ein Megtlein hochzeit [A young girl wanted to marry]

M5. D-LEm II.6.15, p. 414 3 Ursach habe ich zu klagen [I have cause to complain] Landgraf in Hessen 12
Rude II 1600, sig. ee4r 51 Ursach hab ich zu flagen [lament] - 4th up

M6. D-Kl 4° 108 I, f. 26v i Landtgraues Alman 13

M7. D-Ngm 33748 I, ff. 52v-53r Intrada Mauritij - [variation] 16
cf. French Kings Maske - 9 cognates edited in Lute News 64 including D-Kl 4° 108 I, f. 3v Ballet

M8. D-Ngm 33748 I, f. 57r I[ntrada] M[oritj] 17
cf. D-Ngm 33748 I, ff. 55v-56r danz

M9. D-Kl 4° 108 I, ff. 12v-13r Courante M.L.H. 19

M10. D-Kl 4° 108 I, f. 15v ii Courrente de Mad. la premiere fille d'Hessen M.L.H. 24

M11. D-Kl 4° 108 I, ff. 15v-16r Courrente Blanche et bleuue M.L.H. 25 = D-Kl 4° 108 I, ff. 17v-18r Courrente Blanche et bleuue M.L.H.

M12. Reymann Cythara Sacra 1613, sigs. T4r-V1r Psalmus 82 M.L.H. - Variatio 26-27

ALEXANDER OROLOGIO (1555–1633)

Dowland met Alexander Orologio at Moritz's court in Kassel when both were visiting in 1594-5.[10] Orologio was a wind player and composer born in Aurava in Western Friuli, Italy. He is recorded as a trumpeter at the court of Holy Roman Emperor Rudolf II (*r.*1576-1612) in Prague from around 1580 and was appointed deputy Kapellmeister in 1603. He also travelled widely including to the courts at Dresden, Kassel and Wolfenbüttel. He retired on a pension in 1613 living in Prague but died during a visit to Vienna in 1633. His music was published in eight prints in Dresden, Venice and Halmstaedt between 1586 and 1611 including three books of madrigals, three of canzonettes, one of sacred vocal works and Intradae quinque et sex vocibus liber primus (Halmstaedt 1597), a book of twenty eight intradae for instrumental ensemble.[11] Orologio also had prolonged connections with the Danish court of Christian IV of Denmark

---

[1] Some of the music here was edited in previous supplements for LN43 (Brad/Machyn/Simpson/Walteri/Webster), LN112 (Montbuisson), LN142 (Schimmelpfennig).

[2] A letter written in English by Moritz in 1598 offering him his old court post in Kassel begins 'To my loving Frend Mr John Dowland, Bachelor of Music'.

[3] Hartmut Broszinski 'Moritz, Landgraf von Hessen-Kassel' MGG [Die Musik in Geschichte und Gegenwart] Online; Horace Fishback/Eva Linfield 'Moritz, Landgrave of Hesse' Grove Music Online.

[4] All listed in Gesamtausgabe der musikalischen Werke von Moritz Landgraf von Hessen (Stuttgart, Cornetto Verlag) https://katalog.slub-dresden.de/id/0-1190648733

[5] The Royal Collection Trust https://www.rct.uk/collection/610704/moritz-landgrave-of-hesse-kassel-and-juliana-of-nassau-dilenburg-landgravine-of

[6] Thirty sources were edited for Lutezine 121.

[7] Thank you to Mathias Rösel for interpreting the wording as Landgrave as an ascription rather than part of the title. A different setting a fourth higher is found in Rude Flores/Florum Musicae of 1600 but it is different to the music for Haussmann Fragmenta ... neue Weltliche teutsche Lieder 1602, no. 6 Ursach hab ich zu flagen [I have cause to lament] - Robert B. Lynn Valentin Haussmann: A Thematic-Documentary Catalogue of His Works (Pendragon Press 1997), no. 243.

[8] Indicating that Moritz sent it not to Robert, but to John Dowland when he was somewhere other than in Kassel.

[9] Julian Behr 'A pavane by Moritz, Landgrave of Hessen?' The Lute 61 (2021), pp. 94-108.

[10] Keith Polk 'Orologio [Horologius], Alessandro [Alexander]' Grove Music Online; Victoria Panagl & Hellmut Federhofer 'Orologio, Horologius, Oralaio, Alessandro' Die Musik in Geschichte und Gegenwart [MGG] Online; Peter Holman Four and Twenty Fiddlers: the Violin at the English Court 1540–1690 (Oxford 1993/R1995), pp. 170-171; Horace Fishback/Eva Linfield 'Moritz, Landgrave of Hesse' Grove Music Online.

[11] Moder edition: https://imslp.org/wiki/28_Intradae_(Orologio,_Alessandro)

(*r.*1588-1648) in Copenhagen, possibly through an introduction by Dowland when King Christian visited Kassel in 1595. Orologio's book of intradas of 1597 was dedicated to Christian.

Lute intabulations of eight of Orologio's Intradae are found in the lute book of Michael Eysertt of Nuremberg (A-LIa 275) copied *c.*1600. The intradae are more-or-less direct intabulations of five and six voice originals (except O2 is only a similar opening melody to one of them) transcribed from German into French tablature here. They are considered to be amongst the best of ensemble music from the period but the lute intabulations are difficult to play, despite my thining out the texture by omitting a lower voice here and there. The intabulations were probably made by Eysertt himself and not by Orologio who is not known to have played the lute. They are numbered as in Eysertt's lute book (series of 1-9 lacking no. 6) which is different from the numbering of their models in Orologio's print. Eysertt's lute book also contains five items by Dowland amongst thirty five lute solos of English origin and although not recorded it is possible that Eysertt met Dowland during his visits to Nuremberg in 1595 and/or 1596.

O1. A-LIa 475, f. 82r 1 Intrada A6 Alexander Orologio 6
Intradae quinque et sex vocibus liber primus 1597, no. 9 à6

O2. A-LIa 475, f. 82v Intrada A6 ꝛ. 2 [Alexander Orologio] 7
related to Intradae quinque et sex vocibus liber primus 1597, no. 6 à5

O3. A-LIa 475, f. 82v Intrada A6 ꝛ. 3 Alexander Orologio] 8
Intradae quinque et sex vocibus liber primus 1597, no. 11 à6

O4. A-LIa 475, f. 83r Intrada A6 ꝛ. 4 [Alexander Orologio] 11
Intradae quinque et sex vocibus liber primus 1597, no. 12 à6

O5. A-LIa 475, f. 83r Intrada A6 ꝛ. 5 [Alexander Orologio] 12-13
Intradae quinque et sex vocibus liber primus 1597, no. 21 à6

O7. A-LIa 475, f. 84r Intrada A6 ꝛ. 7 [Alexander Orologio] 24-25
Intradae quinque et sex vocibus liber primus 1597, no. 19 à6

O8. A-LIa 475, f. 84v Intrada A6 ꝛ. 8 [Alexander Orologio] 20
Intradae quinque et sex vocibus liber primus 1597, no. 25 à6

O9. A-LIa 475, f. 84v Intrada A6 ꝛ. 9 [Alexander Orologio] 18
Intradae quinque et sex vocibus liber primus 1597, no. 13 à6

Gregory Huwet and Tobias Kühne

When John Dowland visited the Braunschweig and Lüneburg court of Duke Heinrich Julius (*r.*1589-1613) in Wolfenbüttel in 1594, he met the court lutenist Gregory Huwet (*c.*1560-1616) and probably his predecessor Tobias Kühne (1564-?). Khüne was appointed lutenist and singer to Heinrich's father Duke Julius (*r.*1568-1589) in Wolfenbüttel in 1587 until the Duke died in 1589. Huwet was appointed as Kühne's successor in 1591 serving until he died in 1616 and Kühne remained in contact with Huwet when he retired. App 1 is a pavan by Huwet[12] and App 12 is a polphonic fugue by Kühne.

Huwet and four other unnamed string and wind musicians accompanied Dowland when he left Wolfenbüttel in December 1594 and they were together for several months at the court of Moritz Landgrave of Hessen-Kassel.[13] Dowland left Kassel to travel to Italy in March 1595 but returnd in 1596.

Victor de Montbuisson

The lute book D-Kl 4° Mus. 108 I was partly copied by the Kassel court lutenist Victor Montbuisson (*c.*1575->1638) and App 3 is a courante from it ascribed to him. Victor was a French lutenist born in Avignon who served the court for most of his professional life (1595-1627), however, when Huwet died in 1616 Victor unsuccessfully applied for his post in Wolfenbüttel. Victor worked aglongside Dowland when he was resident at the Kassel court in 1594-1595 and Dowland would have seen Moritz's daughter Princesse Elisabeth (1596-1625) as a baby on his return visit in 1596. Victor taught lute to Elisabeth and added the inscription 'Livre de tableture de lhut pour Madame Elisabeth princesse de hessen Comencé par Victor de montbuysson, le dernier Januier 1611' on f. 54r of D-Kl 4° 108 I), when she was aged fifteen - and presumably when the lute book was already half full of music.

Georg Schimmelpfennig

D-Kl 4° 108 I includes a ballet ascribed with the initials G. S. (App 2) who is presumably Georg Schimmelpfennig who probably played lute as valet to the Landgrave and was a member of the Kassel Hofkapelle from 1598 becoming Hofkapellmeister in 1624 and last heard of in 1632. He also set Italian texts by Princess Elisabeth to music that survives in two books of madrigals dated 1615. He may have been present at court when Dowland visited in 1594-5 and 1596.

Richard Machyn

App 4 is one of two lute solos ascribed to Richard Machyn in the Thysius lute book (NL-Lt 1666 begun in the 1590s).[14] He is an English actor musician listed as a lutenist in Kassel records entering the service of Moritz in 1601 and is named as one of the 'hessischen Komödianten und Musikanten', a group resident in Kassel in 1596 and led by Robert Browne and active until 1610 (that also included George Webster, see below).[15] So it is possible he was in Kassel earlier when Dowland was visiting.

George and Maurice Webster

The 'Galliarda Engl Georg Wesper' in Fuhrmann's Testudo Gallo-Germanica (Nuremberg 1615) (App 5) is presumably by George Webster who was an English lutenist also recorded as a member of Robert Browne's company of English actors and musicians resident at Moritz's court in Kassel in 1596,[16] where he is likely to have seen Dowland who was also there much of that year. After 1601 George was employed at the court of Count Ernst III of Schaumberg (1562-1622) in Bückeburg (the Count married Moritz's sister Princess Hedwig in 1597) so could have been there at the same time as Thomas Simpson and William Brade. George's son Maurice (*d.*1635), a lutenist and composer of consort music, was probably born in Kassel and may have been named after Moritz. Maurice Webster contributed four items to Simpson's Taffel-Consort (Hamburg 1621) and was later appointed lutenist in the consort of James I in 1623 and was then one of Charles I's lutenists, alongside John Dowland so presumably they were acquainted.[17]

William Brade

William Brade (1560-1630) left England around 1590 and was employed at a number of courts in Northern Germany changing jobs every few years He was employed by Christian IV of Denmark in Copenhagen for several periods from 1594 including the years 1599-1606 coinciding with Dowland's appointment there in 1598 through to his dismissal in 1606, so

---

[12] A fantasia in Robert Dowland's Varietie of Lute Lessons of 1610 is ascribed to 'Gregorio Huwet of Antwerpe: Lutenist to the most high and mightie Henricus Iulius, Duke of Brunswicke'.

[13] Both, Monachij Gregorium Wolffenb. and Tobias Kun are listed as second and sixth most Celeberrimi teſtudinarii [lutenists] ... In German[i] in Gumpelzhaimer Gymnasium De Exercitius Academicorum (Strabourg 1621), Partitionis Secondae I De Musica p. 100.

[14] In English Ballad Tunes for the Lute (Cambridge Lute Series II, 1965/R1975), Diana Poulton assumed incorrectly that the ascription referred to the preceeding piece. The otherpiece by Machyn in Thusius is Pavyn de Lyght Rich[ard], a consort lute part based on John Johnson's Delight Pavan. In addition Machyn is probably the 'Richardi Anglus natione Incoepi 12. Aug A° 1600' written on a tuning chart and composer of 'Passem A.M. Rich Ang.' both in PL-Kj 40143 partly copied in the hand of Jean Baptiste Besard. And Machyn is probably also the dedicatee of 'Pavana 51 de Signor Richardo' amongst Moritz's works.

[15] Jerzy Limon Gentlemen of a Company. English Players in Central and Eastern Europe 1590-1660 (CUP 1985), pp. 110 153; Holman 1993, ibid., pp. 156-157.

[16] Holman 1993, ibid. 256; Chambers T*he Elizabethan Stage* (1923), pp. 278-279.

[17] Andrew Ashbee, David Lasocki with Peter Holman and Fiona Kisby Biographical Dictionary of English Court Musicians (Ashgate 1998), II pp. 1136-1137.

they were surely acquainted.[18]. He then worked at Bückeburg 1606-1608 and again in 1610. The 'Galliarda Brad' (App 15) from the lute book of Petrus Fabricius (1579-1650) - he was Danish but probably began copying it in 1603 when he was a student in Rostock. The galliard is probably an intabulation of an ensemble galliard of Brade's as it is similar to an ensemble galliard in his Newe lesene Paduanen und Galliarden (Hamburg 1614). Brade is not known to have played the lute so the arrangement was probably made by someone else, possibly one of his sons, Christian (*c.*1598->1628) or Steffen (*c.*1600-49) who were both lutenists and performed in a chamber trio with their father in Germany. Christian was employed as lutenist by the Margrave Christian Wilhelm of Brandenburg (1587-1665) and Steffen by Elector Georg Wilhelm of Brandenburg (r.1619-1640), but no music ascribed to either of them is known.[19]

The English musicians Walter Rowe and Thomas Simpson began their continental careers after Dowland had returned to England sometime between 1606 and 1611 so that they may never have met, except on possible unrecorded trips home during the time Dowland was employed at the English court from 1612 until he died in 1626.[20]

Walter Rowe

The 'Pavane Walteri' in Fuhrmann's Testudo Gallo-Germanica (Nuremberg 1615) (App 12) probably refers to Walter Rowe (1584/5-1671), an English viol and baryton player who spent most of his career in Germany from 1614 until he died. He was mainly in the employ of Georg Wilhelm, Elector of Brandenburg in Berlin, as was the much older William Brade. Rowe copied a courante for lyra viol in tablature in the album amicorum of David von Mandelsloh in Hamburg (App 6).[21]

Thomas Simpson

The volta (App 15) is one of two lute solos ascribed to Thomas Sim(p)son in a manuscript now in Herdringen, and is a lute arrangement based on a volta in Simpson's book of ensemble music Opusculum neuwer Pauanen published in Frankfurt 1610. Simpson (1582->1625) was an English viol player and composer recorded as working in Heidelberg in 1608 after an unknown number of years employed elsewhere on the continent - so could conceivably have crossed paths with Dowland who left the continent in 1606. Simpson was employed at the court in Bückeburg in 1611, probably with William Brade and the Websters. When Count Ernst III died in 1622 the musical establishment was disbanded and Simpson moved to a post at the Danish court of Christian IV in Copenhagen where he remained until he died sometime between 1625 and 1628.[22]

On a trip back to England from Denmark in 1603 Dowland met Johannes Cellarius (1580-1619) of Nuremberg as he signed the latter's Album Amicorum (GB-Lbl Add.27579) 'Jo: dolandi de Lachrimae his own hand' below the theme of a fuga in mensural notation - transcribed into tablature as App 11 here[23] - although where they met is not known and Nuremberg is a long way round from Copenhagen to London.

The remaining Appendices are page fillers of an anonymous Lied (App 10) and three lute settings of Lied found in Valentin Haussmann's prints (App 8/9/14) - a foretaste of seventy of them in the accompanying Lutezine - so contemporary with Dowland's travels. And finally App 7 is 'Gagliarda Spavento' in D-Kl 4° 108 I, of presumed Italian origin and the Spavento of the title means fright in Italian, rather than being an ascription.[24]

In conclusion, from surviving records Dowland was acquainted with Moritz, Huwet and Orologio, but there is no record of him meeting the other composers included here although the places and dates of their movements approximately coincide so it is feasible that they were acquainted. However, the few lute solos in continental sources ascribed to the Englishmen, John Hoskins, Jenickens, Richard Sellowes and William Taire, who were probably English actors/ musicians but not recorded as passing through Wolfenbüttel or Kassell, are not included here.

App 1. D-Dl 1-V-8, f. 66v untitled (Pavan Gregory Huwet)[25] 9
S-Sr ? Pauana Gregory Huuett in a now unidentified book in Rude 1600, sigs. hh6v-ii1r 109 [index: Pavana G. H.]
App 2. D-Kl 4° 108 I, f. 18r Ballet G(eorg) S(chimmelpfennig) 10
App 3. D-Kl 4° 108 I, f. 66v Courente de Victor de Monthuysson 11
App 4. NL-Lt 1666, f. 391r (Almaine?) Rich Machyn 13
App 5. Fuhrmann 1615, pp. 116-117 Galliarda Engl Georg Wesper 14-15
App 6. Coranto Walter Rowe - lyra viol (ffhfh) & trans for lute 15
App 7. D-Kl 4° 108 I, f. 9r Gagliarda Spavento 17
App 8. D-LEm II.6.15, p. 427 Schönste zart o schöne art (Haussmann) - Lynn 294 18
App 9. LT-Va 285-MF-LXXIX, f. 13r Sol sich den ihr Lieb so scharen V H(aussmann) - Lynn 210 19
App 10. D-Ngm 33748 I, f. 52r End euch ainmahl Ihr ohne Zahl [Turn to Him, all you without number] - anonymous 20
App 11. GB-Lbl Add.27579 (Album Amicorum of Johannes Cellarius) Fuga Jo: dolandi de Lachrimae his own hand - transcribed from mensural notation 20
App 12. D-LEm II.6.15, pp. 86-87 Pavane Walteri 21
App 13. D-Dl 1-V-8, ff. 42r-42v Fuga super Verleih uns friedt Tobiae Khuhn 22-23
App 14. D-LEm II.6.23, f. 44v p. 88 Tantz mir nicht mit meiner Jungfrou gredten Kathen (Haussmann) - Lynn 296 27
App 15. DK-Kk Thott 841,4o, f. 113v Galliarda Brad(e) 27
cf. Brade 1614, no. 31 Galliard - instr. ens. à6
App 16. D-HRD Fu 9829, ff. 17v-18r Volta Thomas Simson 28
cf. Simpson Opusculum 1610, no. 21 Volta - instr. ens. à5

John H. Robinson - August 2026

[18] Arne Spohr 'From "Seiten-Kunst" to "Fürsten Gunst": The careers of the Anglo-German musicians William, Christian and Steffen Brade in the context of the Thirty Years War' Journal of Seventeenth-Century Music 26/1 (2020) online at: https://sscm-jscm.org/jscm-issues/volume-26-no-1/spohr-anglo-german-musicians-brade/ Incidentally there are five arrangements for two viols ascribed to Wilhelm Brade in D-Usch Misc.130A-B (nos. 93-97).

[19] Mylius's Thesaurus Gratiarum (Frankfurt 1622), pp. 44-47 includes two English pavans titled Pauana Wilhelmi Angli and Pauana Anglica Ejusdem (=Wilhelmi Angli) 2 that might refer to William Brade. However, the second is ascribed to Daniel Bacheler [GB-Lbl Eg.2046, f. 27v A pauin by Mr Daniell Bachler; GB-Cfm Mus.689, ff. 3v-4r Pauana del Sr Danielli Inglese; GB-Cu Dd.5.78.3, f. 61v-62r untitled; Fuhrmann 1615, pp. 49-50 Pavana prima - Pavana de Angleterra] and the first is in Bacheler's style so it is possible that Brade passed on copies of Bacheler's pavans to Mylius. A third pavan in Mylius, pp. 57-58 Pauana Anglica, is also ascribed to Bacheler in English sources [GB-Cfm 689, ff. 19v-20r Pauana mr Daniel Bacheler; GB-Lbl Eg.2046, ff. 20v-21r A pavine by daniell Bachler; Fuhrmann 1615, p. 56-58 Pavana quarta.

[20] I also wonder if Dowland met Christian IV of Denmark again when the King came incognito to England to see his sister Queen Anne in July 1614 (Ashbee and Lasocki 1998, ibid. i, pp. 230-231).

[21] Inscribed 'In hamburck den 4 Augustus 1614. dieses habe ich Walter Rowe Ingeltender zur gedechnis gescheiber meinem gunstigenn guttenn freunde, und Junker: david Vonn mandelslaw'. [Hamburg, 4 August 1614. I, Walter Rowe, an Englishman, wrote this as a memento for my kind, good friend and Junker, David von Mandelslaw] - thought lost but found again by François-Pierre Goy in Lübeck City Library (D-LÜh] MS 1561), thank s to Tim Crawford for the link: https://commons.wikimedia.org/wiki/Category:Album_amicorum_of_David_von_Mandelsloh

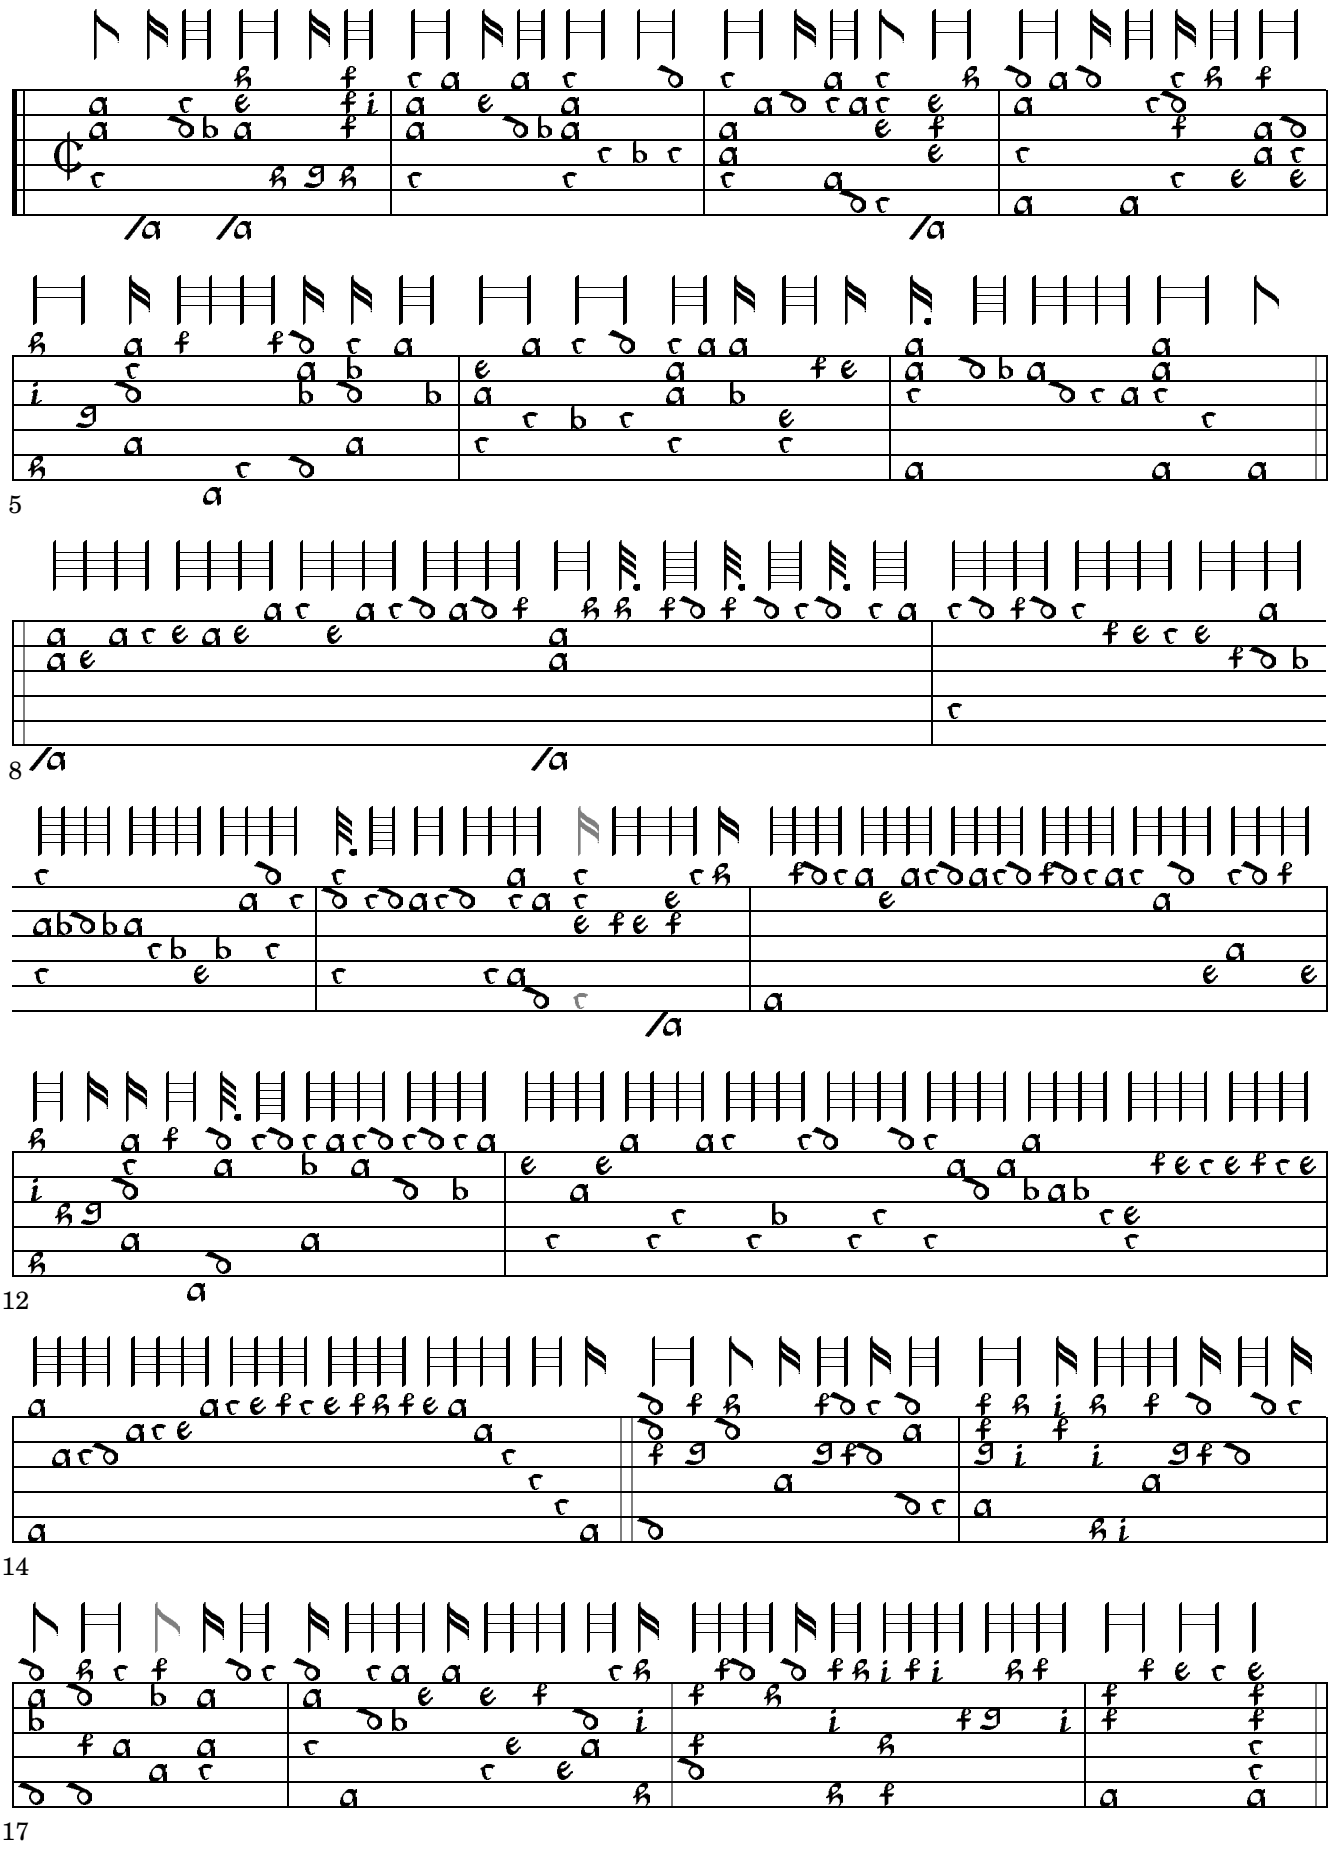

[22] Peter Holman 'An Englishman Abroad: Thomas Simpson Revisited' The Viola da Gamba Society Journal xviiia (2024), pp. 18–51; Holman 1993, ibid. p. 256.

[23] Diana Poulton John Dowland (Faber and Faber 2nd ed. 1982), p. 60, 399, with a reconstruction of the fuga by John Ward on pp. 454-455.

[24] But not related to 'Lo Spaventoso' [the frightful], one of sixteen capricios for two intruments in Paolo Fonghetti Capricii et Madrigali 1598, p. 14.

[25] The source of Huwet's pavan here was not identified when Collected Lute Solos of Gregorius Huwet & Thobias Kühne Lutenists at the Wolfenbüttel Court (TREE Edition 2018, free pdf on Lute Society website) was published, and Khüne's Fuga (App 13) has been further edited.

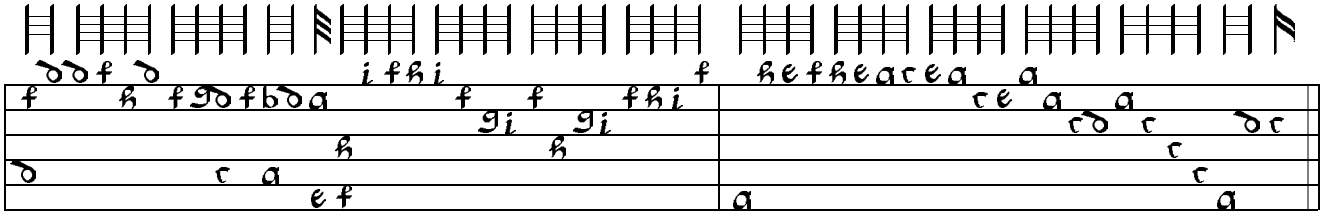

M1. Pavan Mauritius Landgraue of Hessen - 7F8D AA7BB6CC8 Varietie 1610, sigs. H2v-I1r

21

25

27

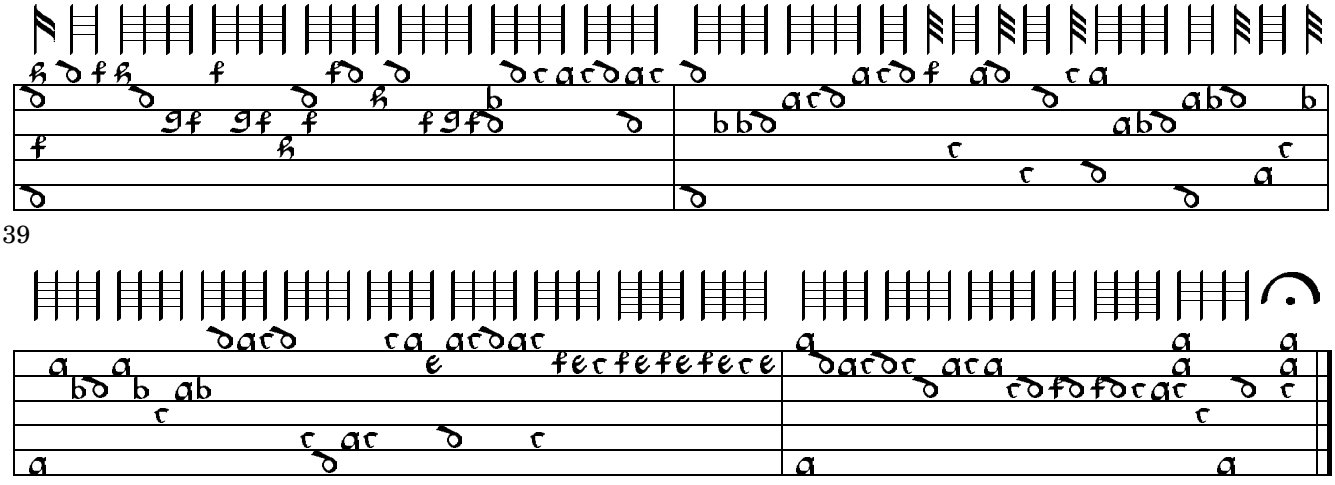

31

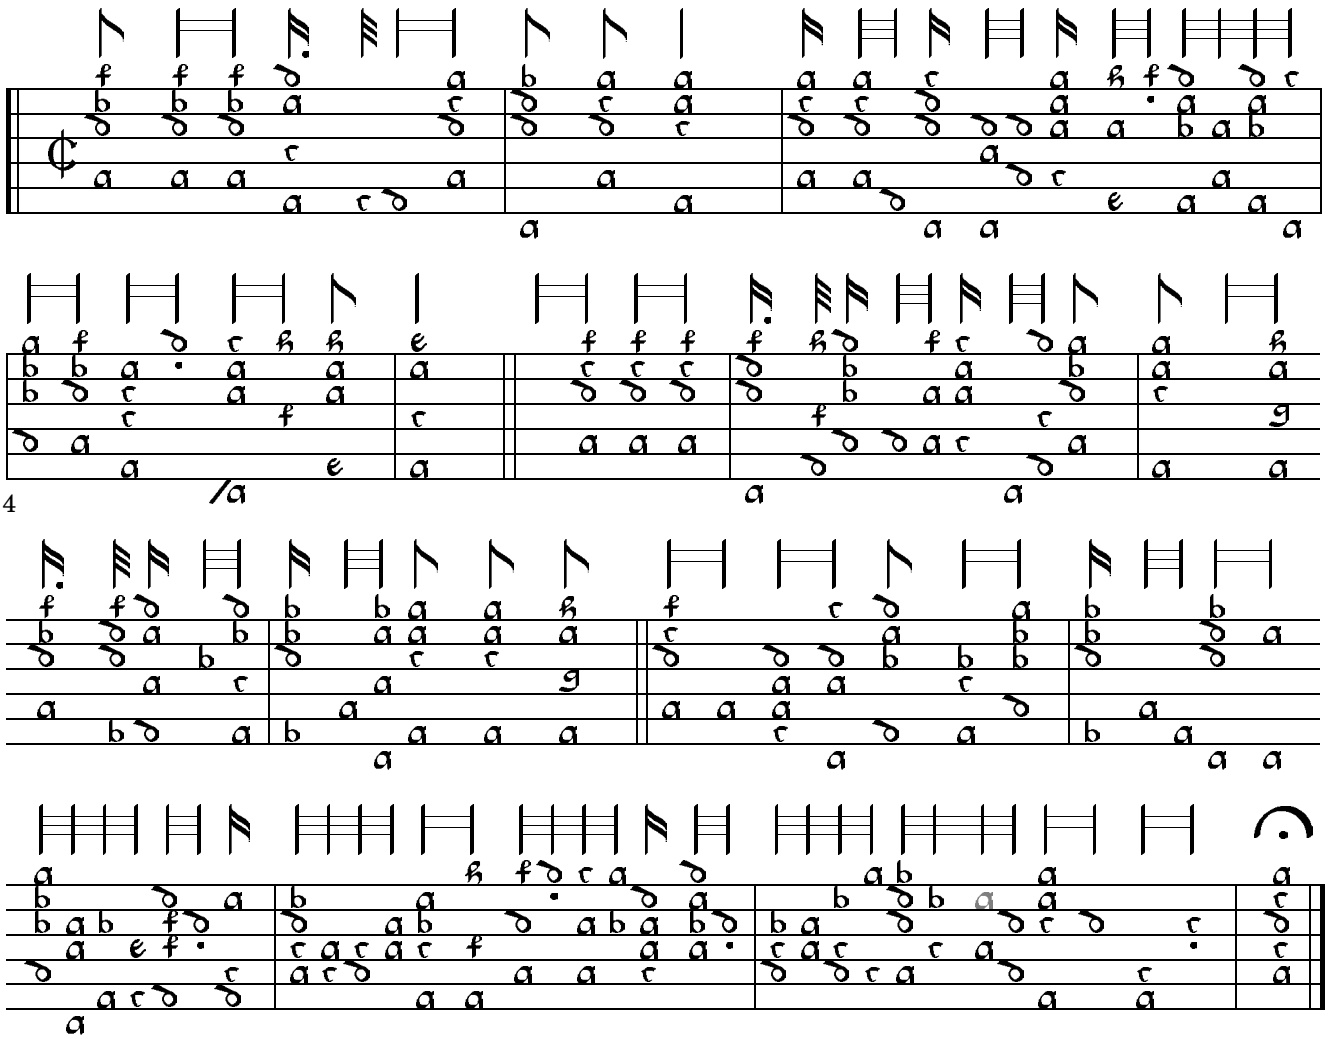

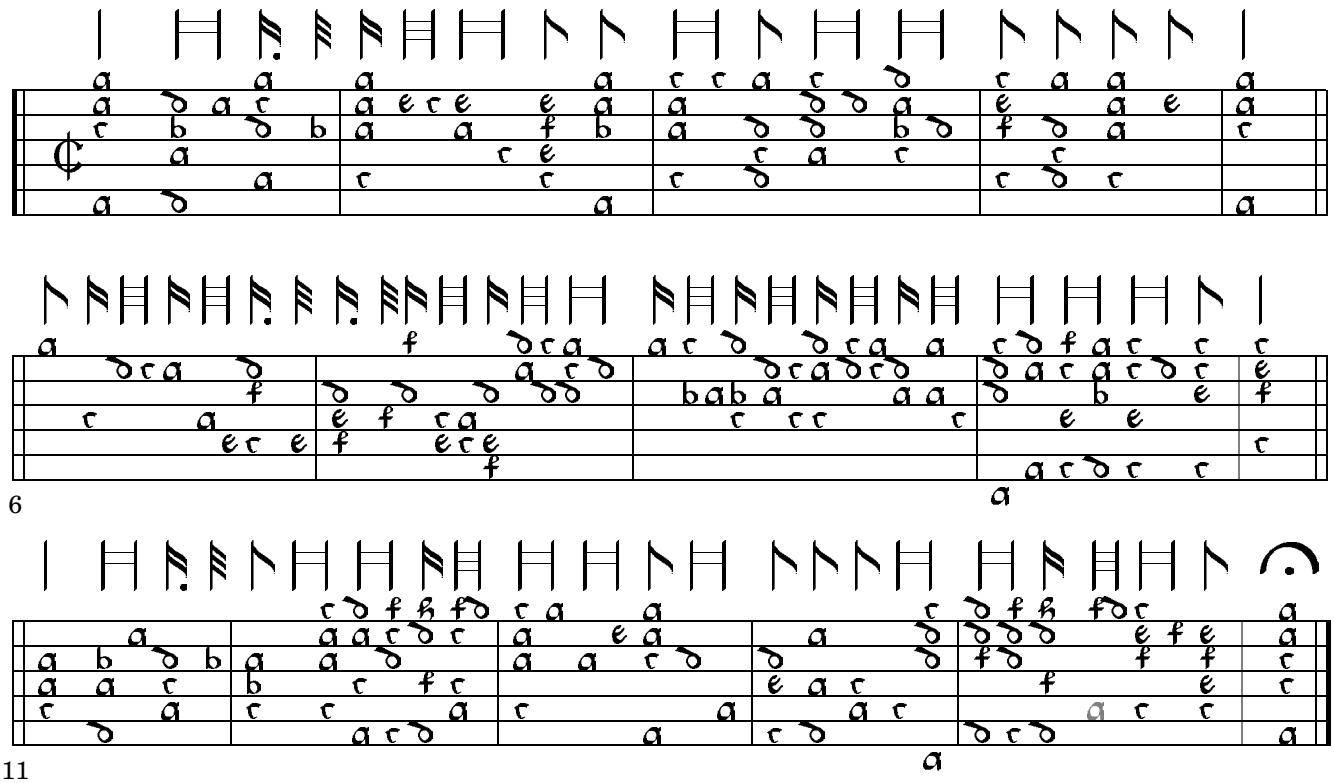

37

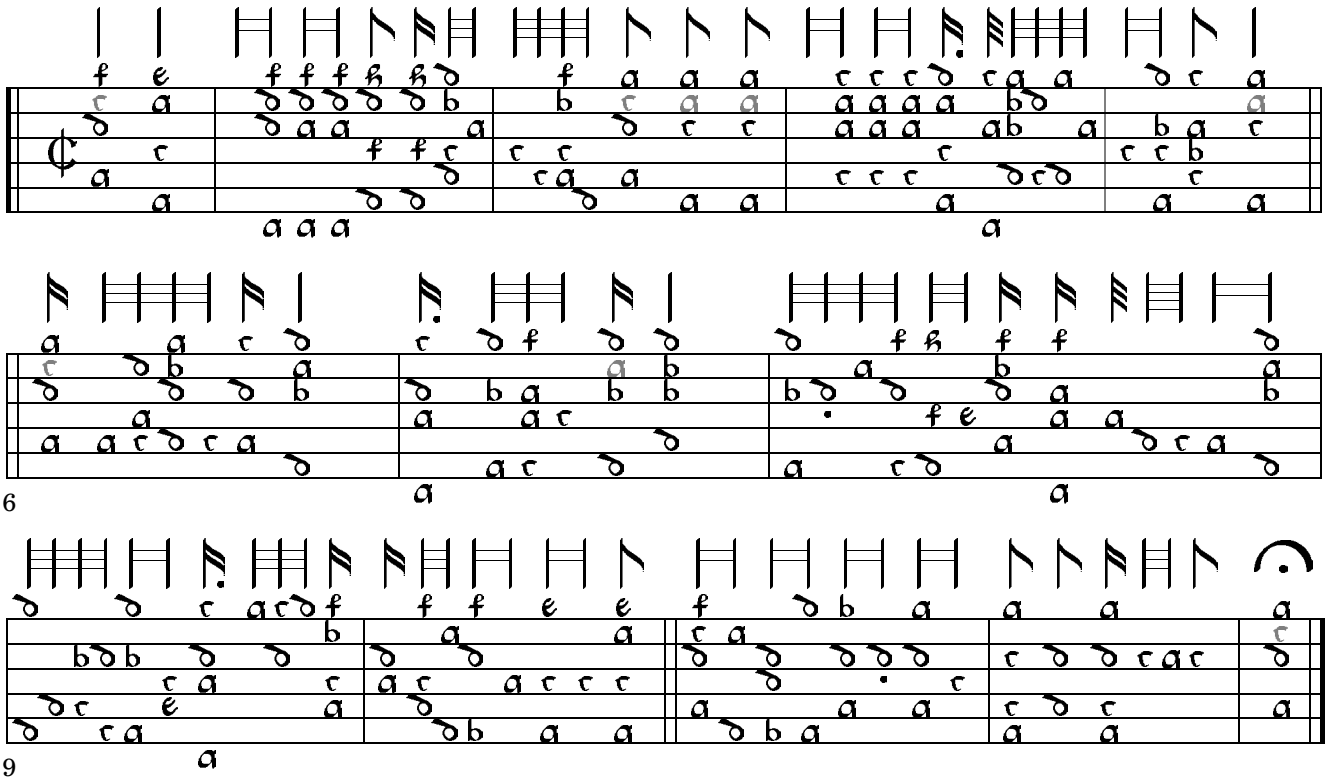

O1. Intrada 1 Alexander Orologio - 7F8D A5B3C5 A-LIa 475, f. 82r

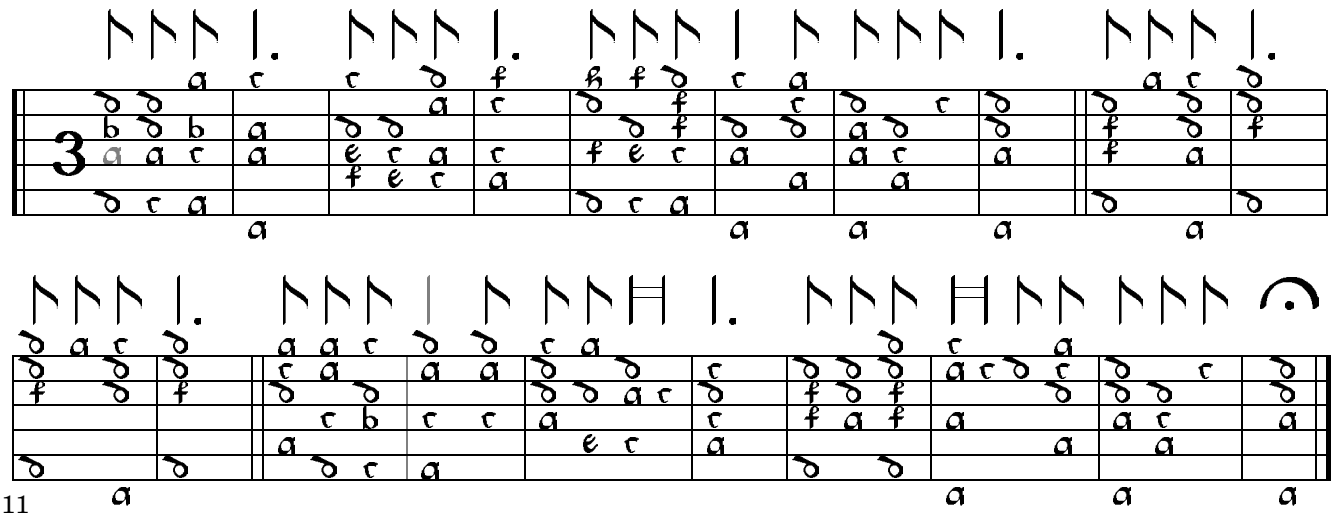

M2. Pavana di Mauritio d'alto Monte - 7F A5B5C6 Rude II 1600, sig. hh6r

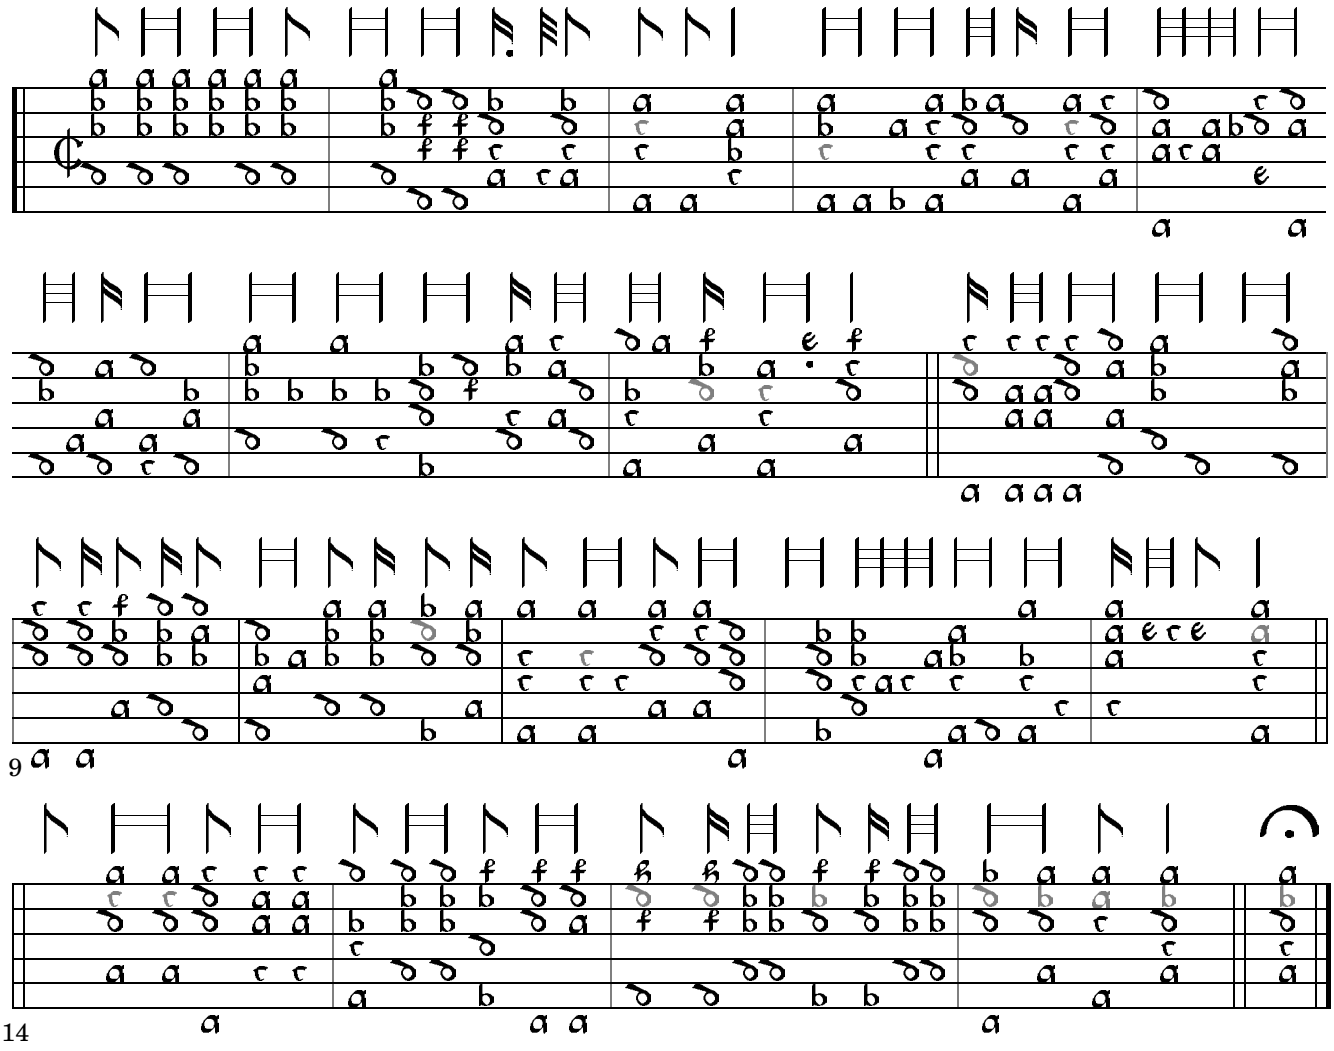

O2. Intrada 2 Alexander Orologio - 7F A5B5C3 A-LIa 475, f. 82v

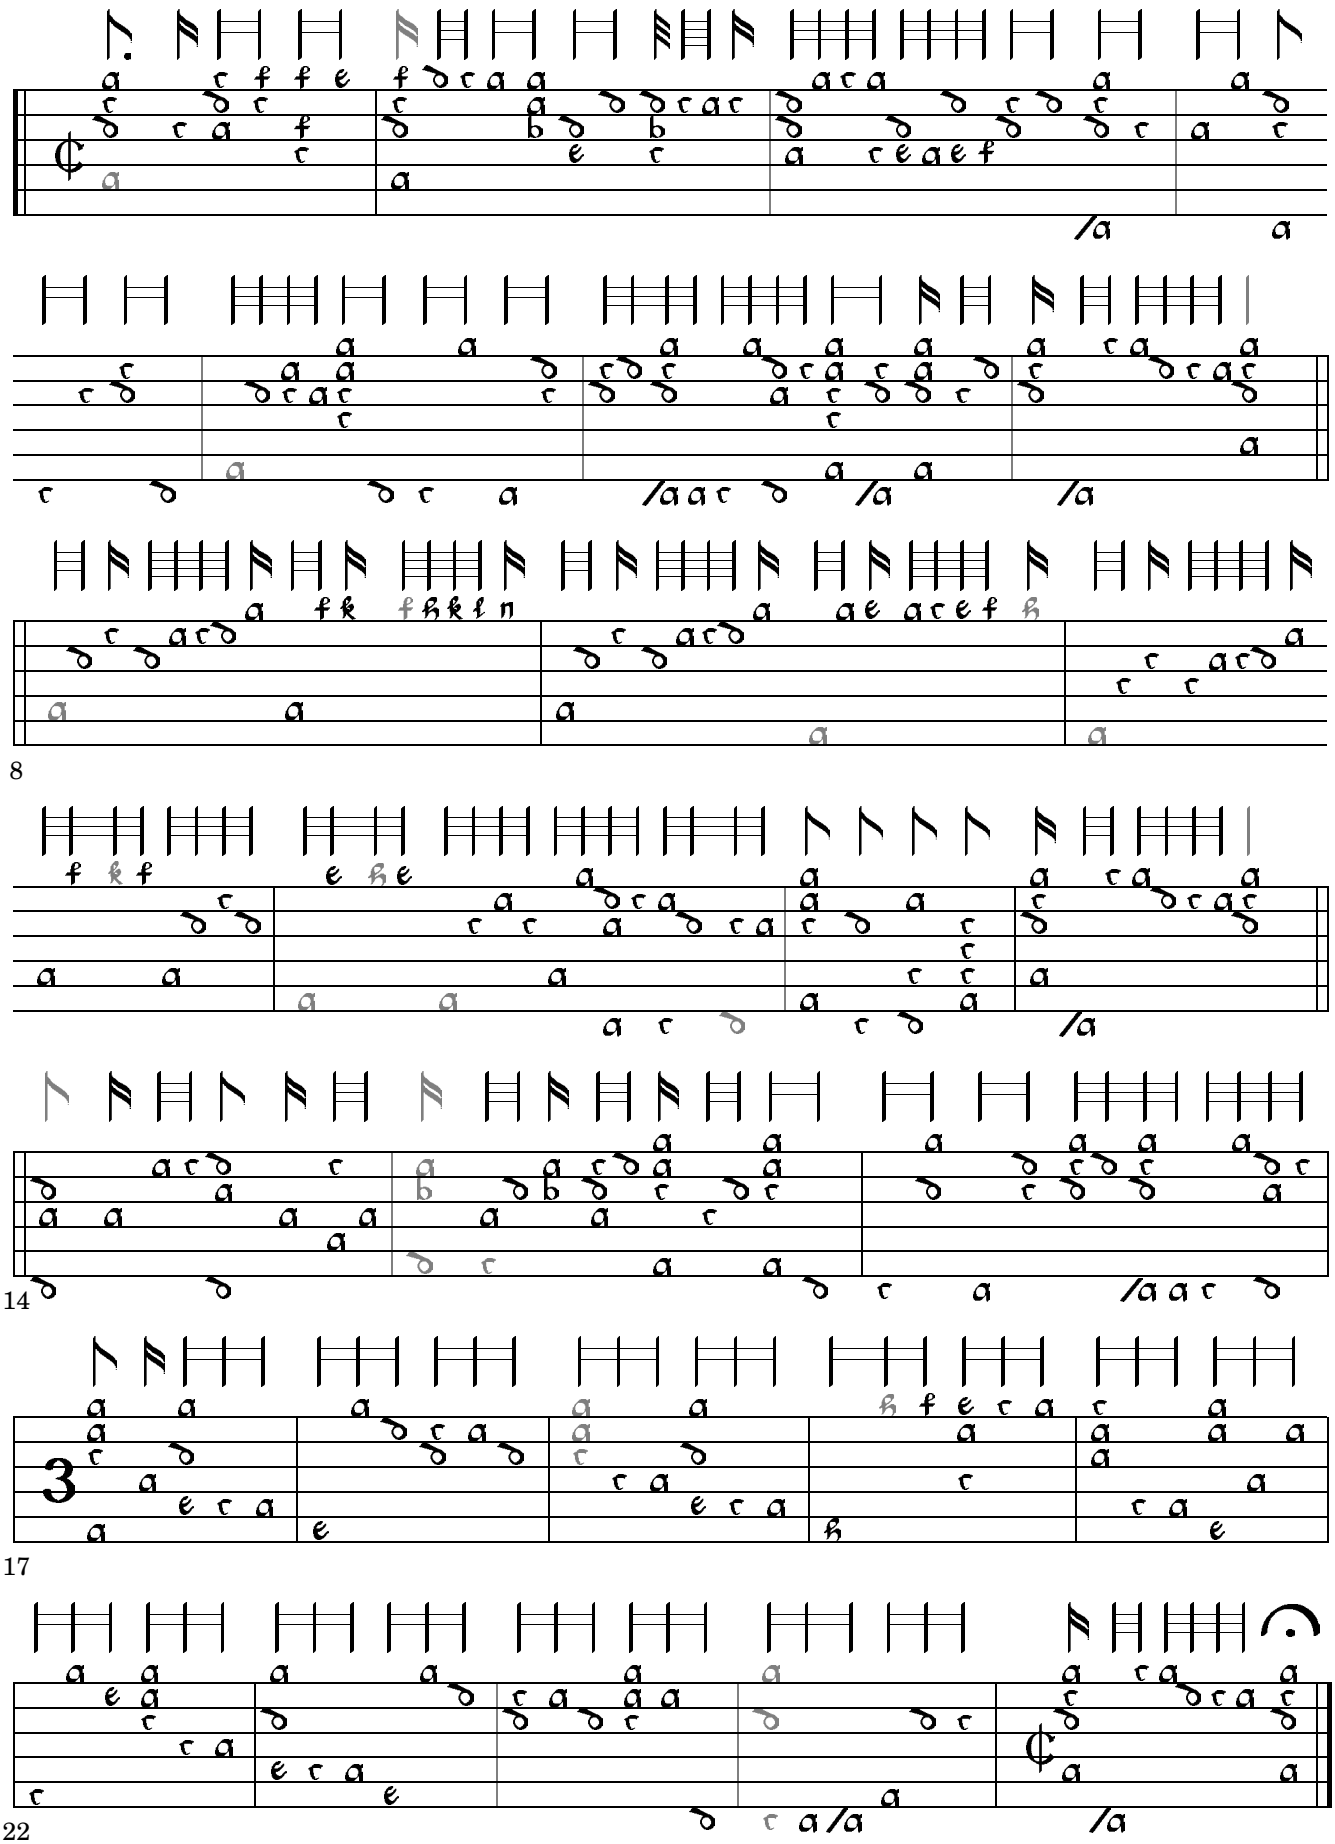

M3. Galliarda M. L. H. - 7F A8B4C8 D-Dl I-V-8, f. 63v

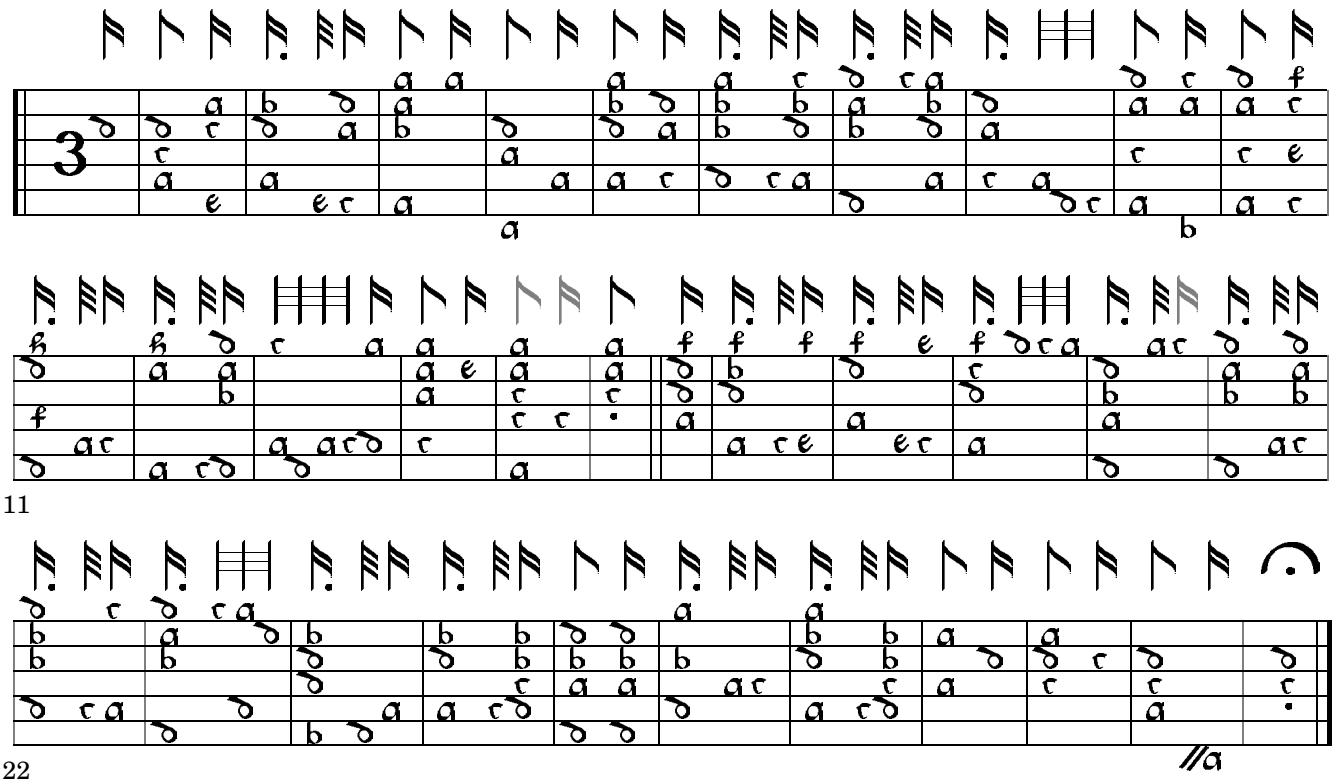

O3. Intrada 3 Alexander Orologio - 7F A7B6C4+1 A-LIa 475, f. 82v

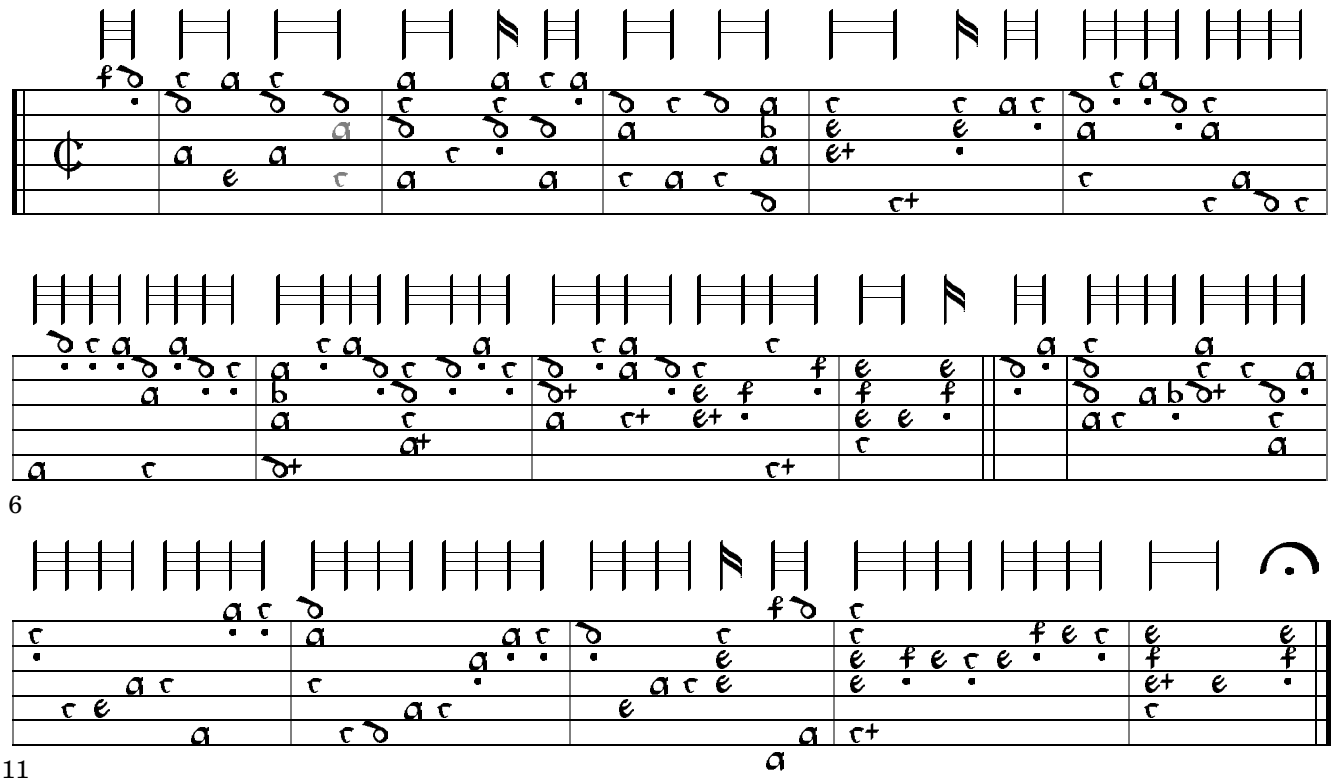

App 1. Pavan Gregory Huwet - 7D8C A7B6C13 D-Dl 1-V-8, f. 66v

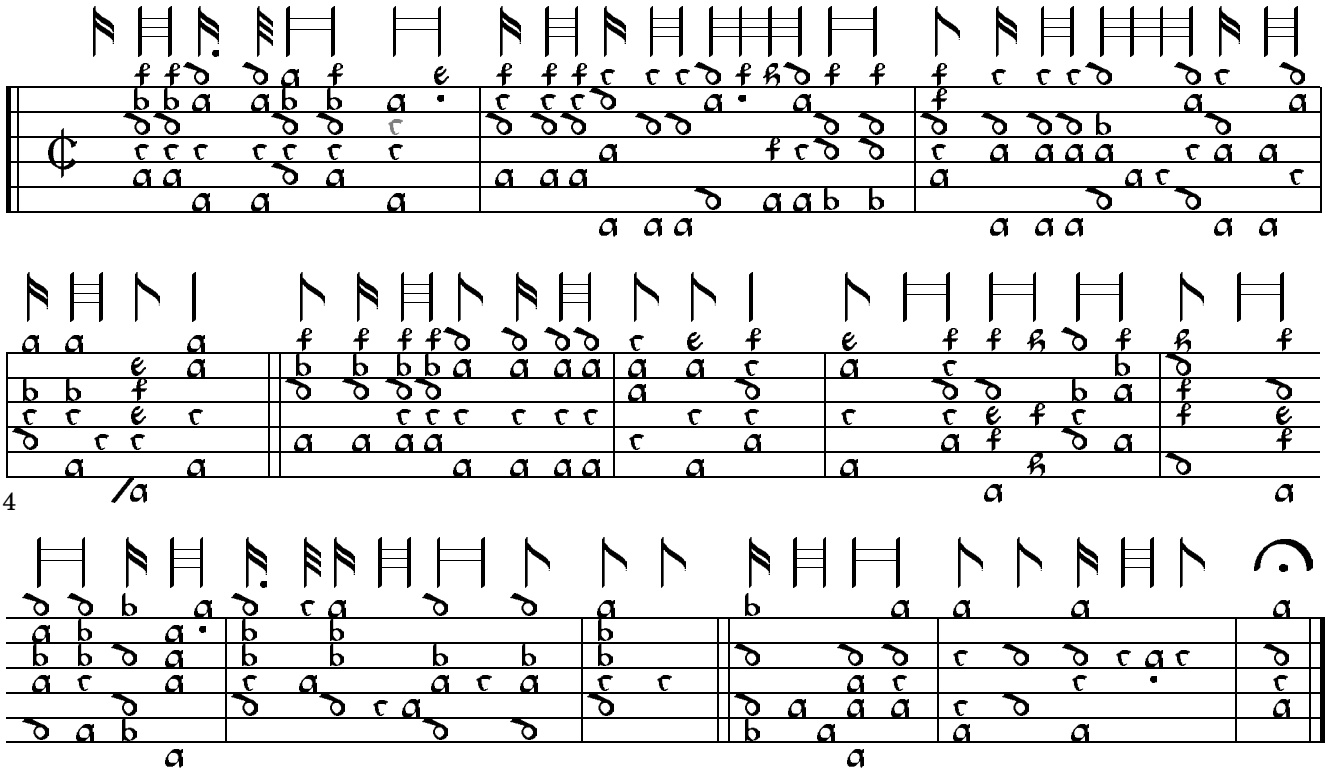

M4. Courante Es wolt ein Megtlein hochzeit  M. L. H. - 7F9C A16B16  D-Kl 4o 108 I, f. 26r

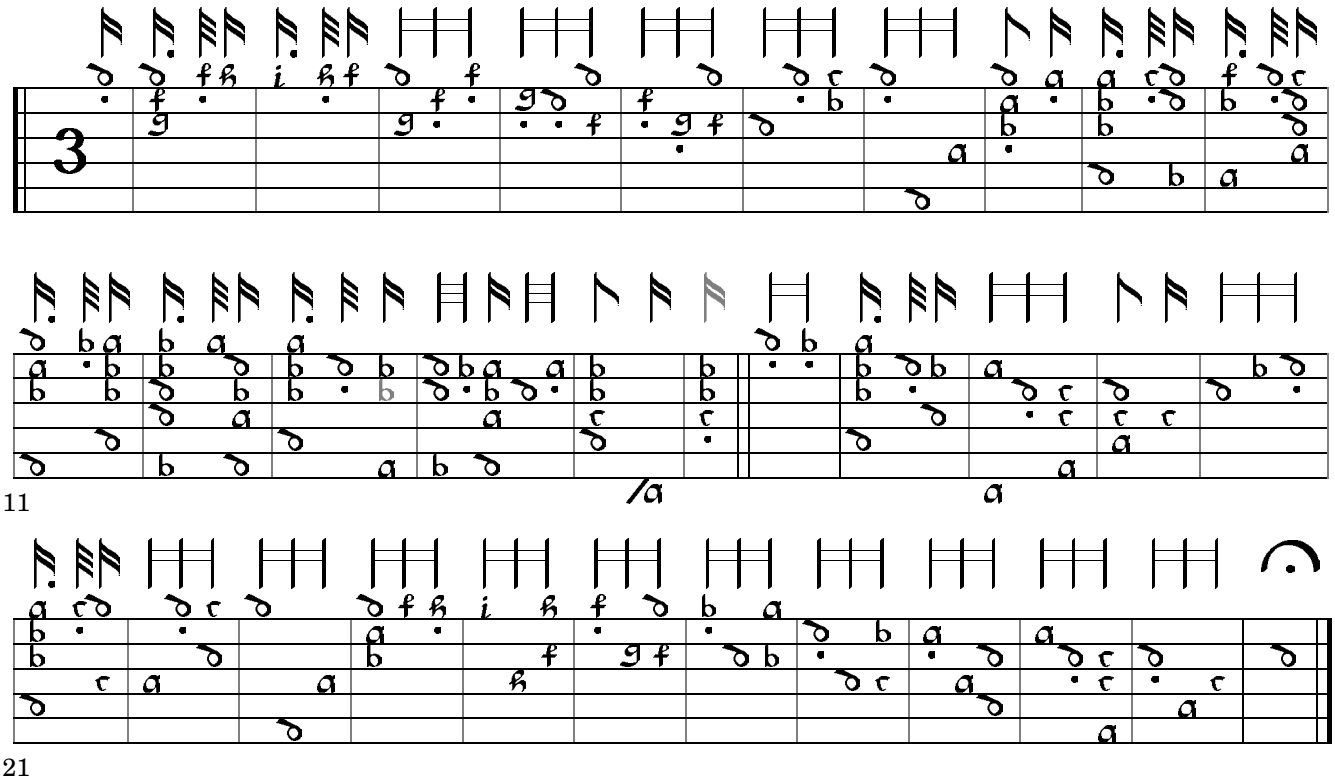

App 2. Ballet Georg Schimmelpfennig - 7F A9B6  D-Kl 4o.108 I, f. 18r

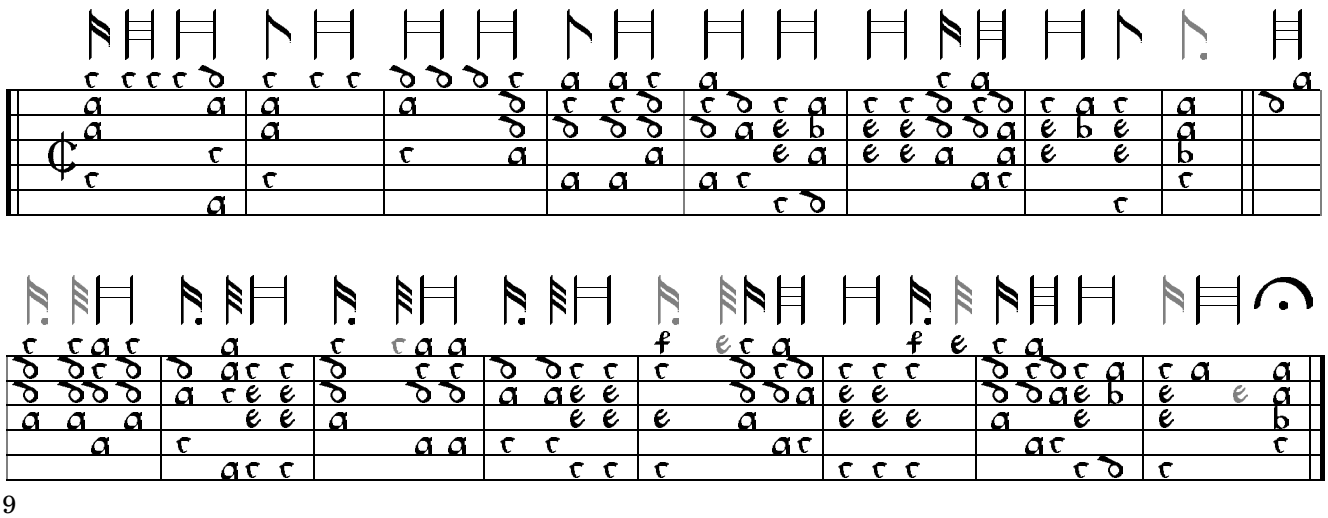

O4. Intrada 4 Alexander Orologio - 7F8D A4B6C2 A-LIa 475, f. 83r

App 3. Courente de Victor de Montbuysson - 7F8Eb A16B16 D-Kl 4o 108 I, f. 66v

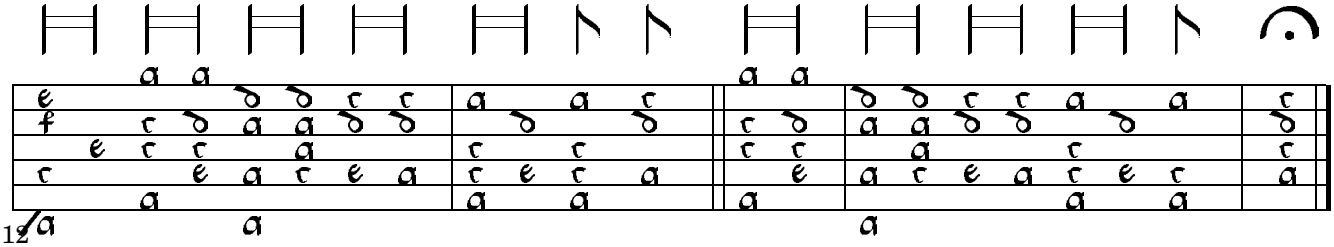

M5. Ursach habe ich zu klagen Landgraf in Hessen - A8B8 D-LEm II.6.15, p. 414

O5. Intrada 5 Alexander Orologio - 7F8D A5B3C5D2 A-LIa 475, f. 83r

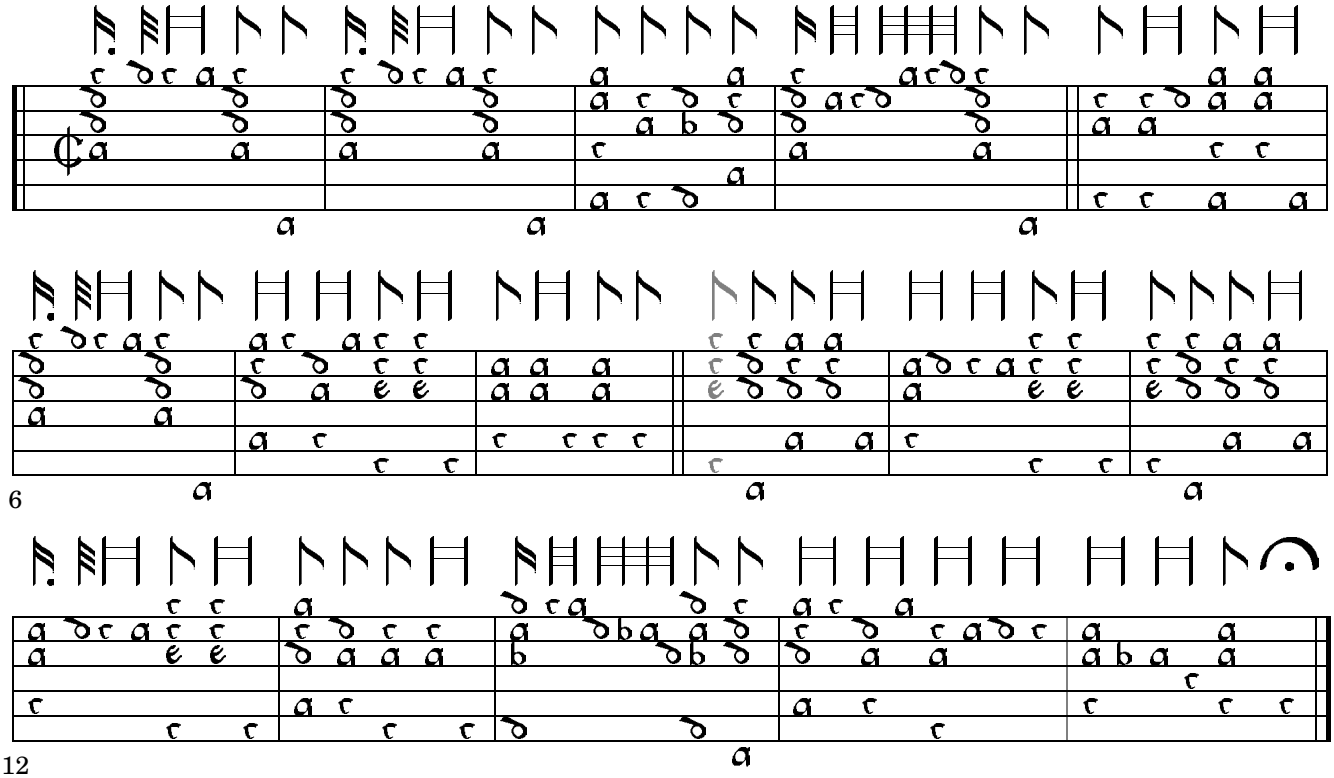

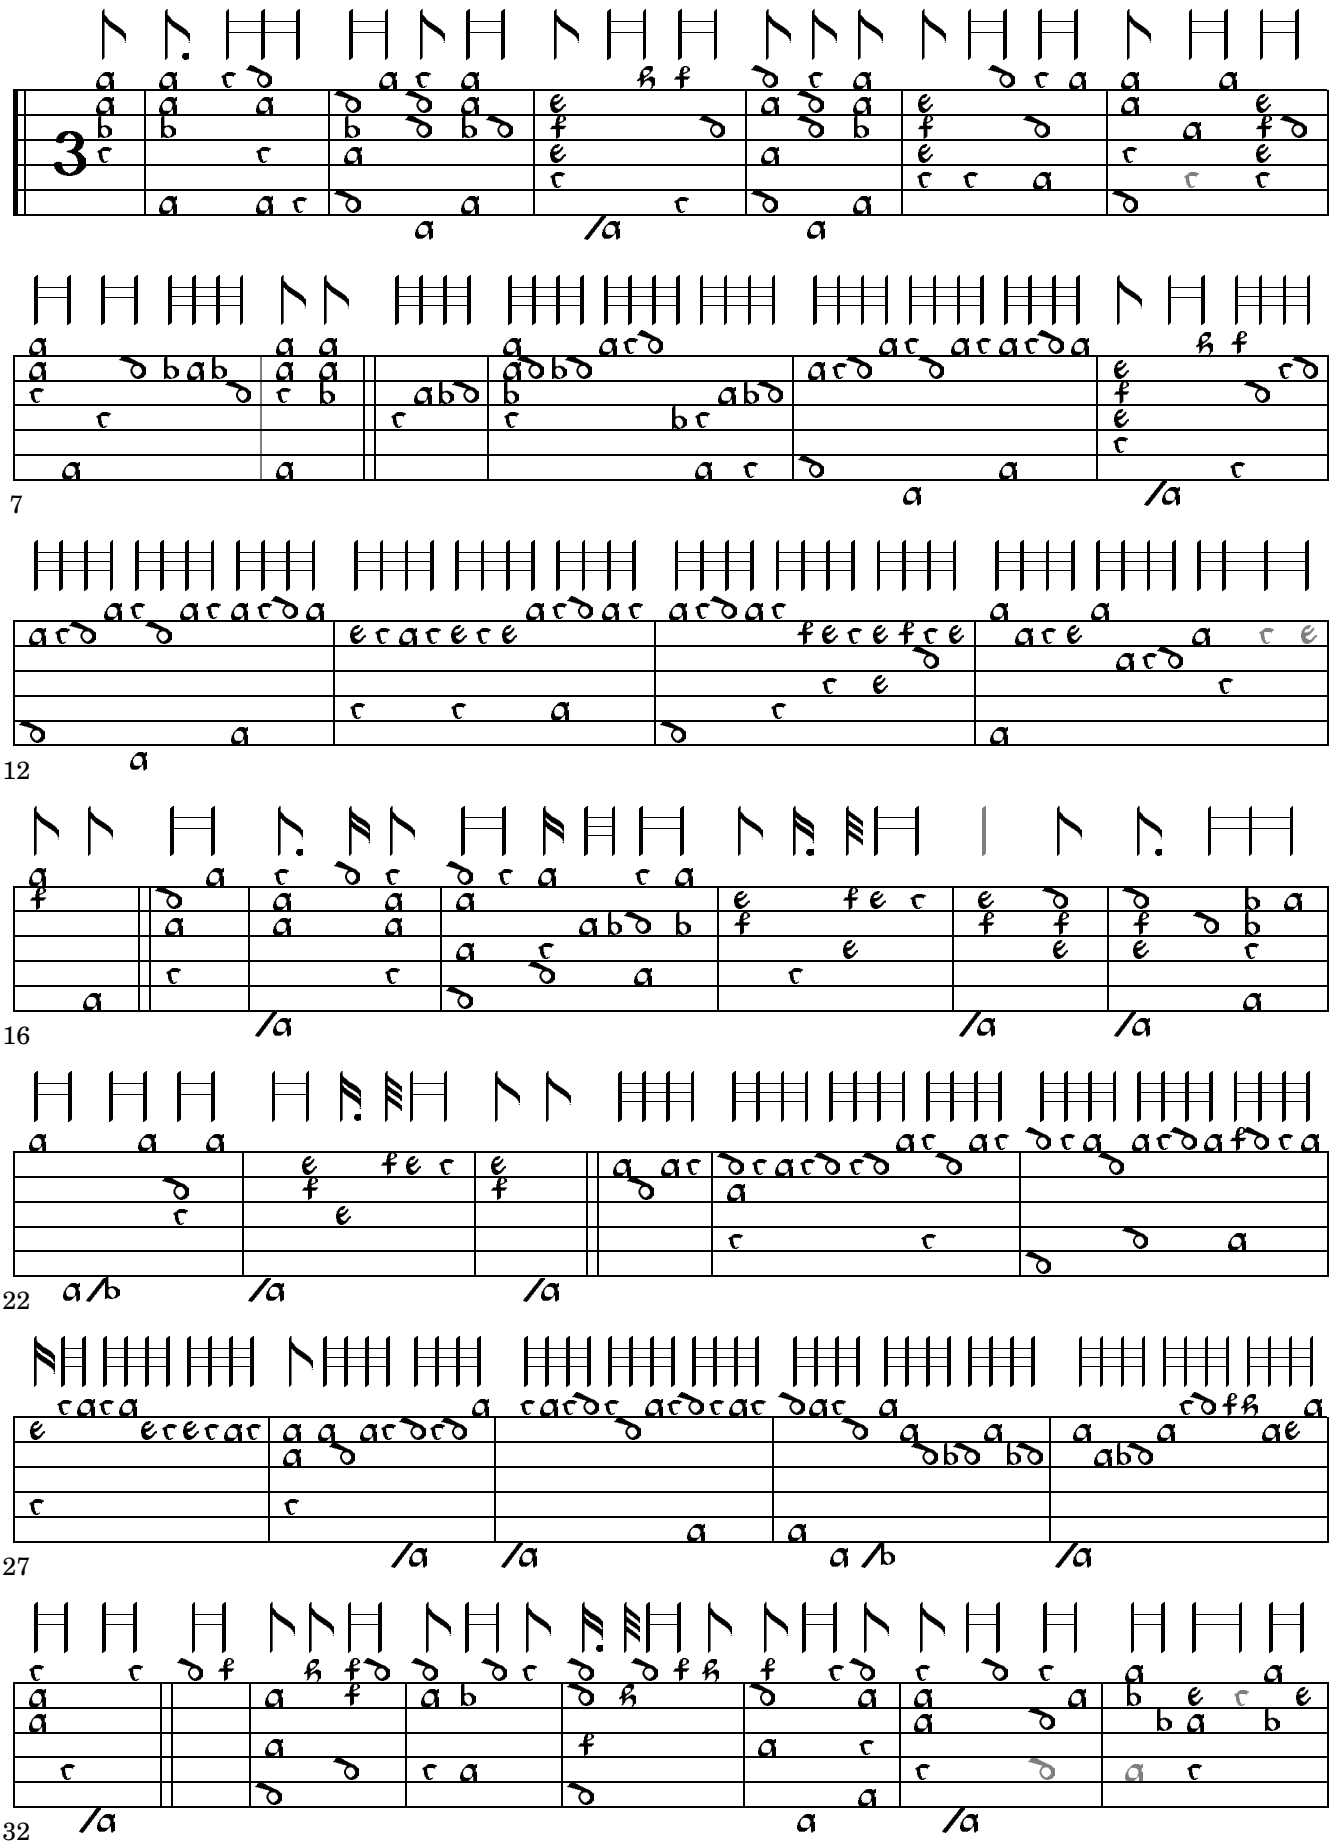

M6. Landtgraves Alman - 7F8Eb A4B4C4D4 D-Kl 4o 108 I, f. 26v

App 4. Almaine? Rich Machyn - 7F A4B4C8 NL-Lu 1666, f. 391r

App 5. Galliarda Georg Wesper - 7F8D AA8BB8CC8 Fuhrmann 1615, pp. 116-117

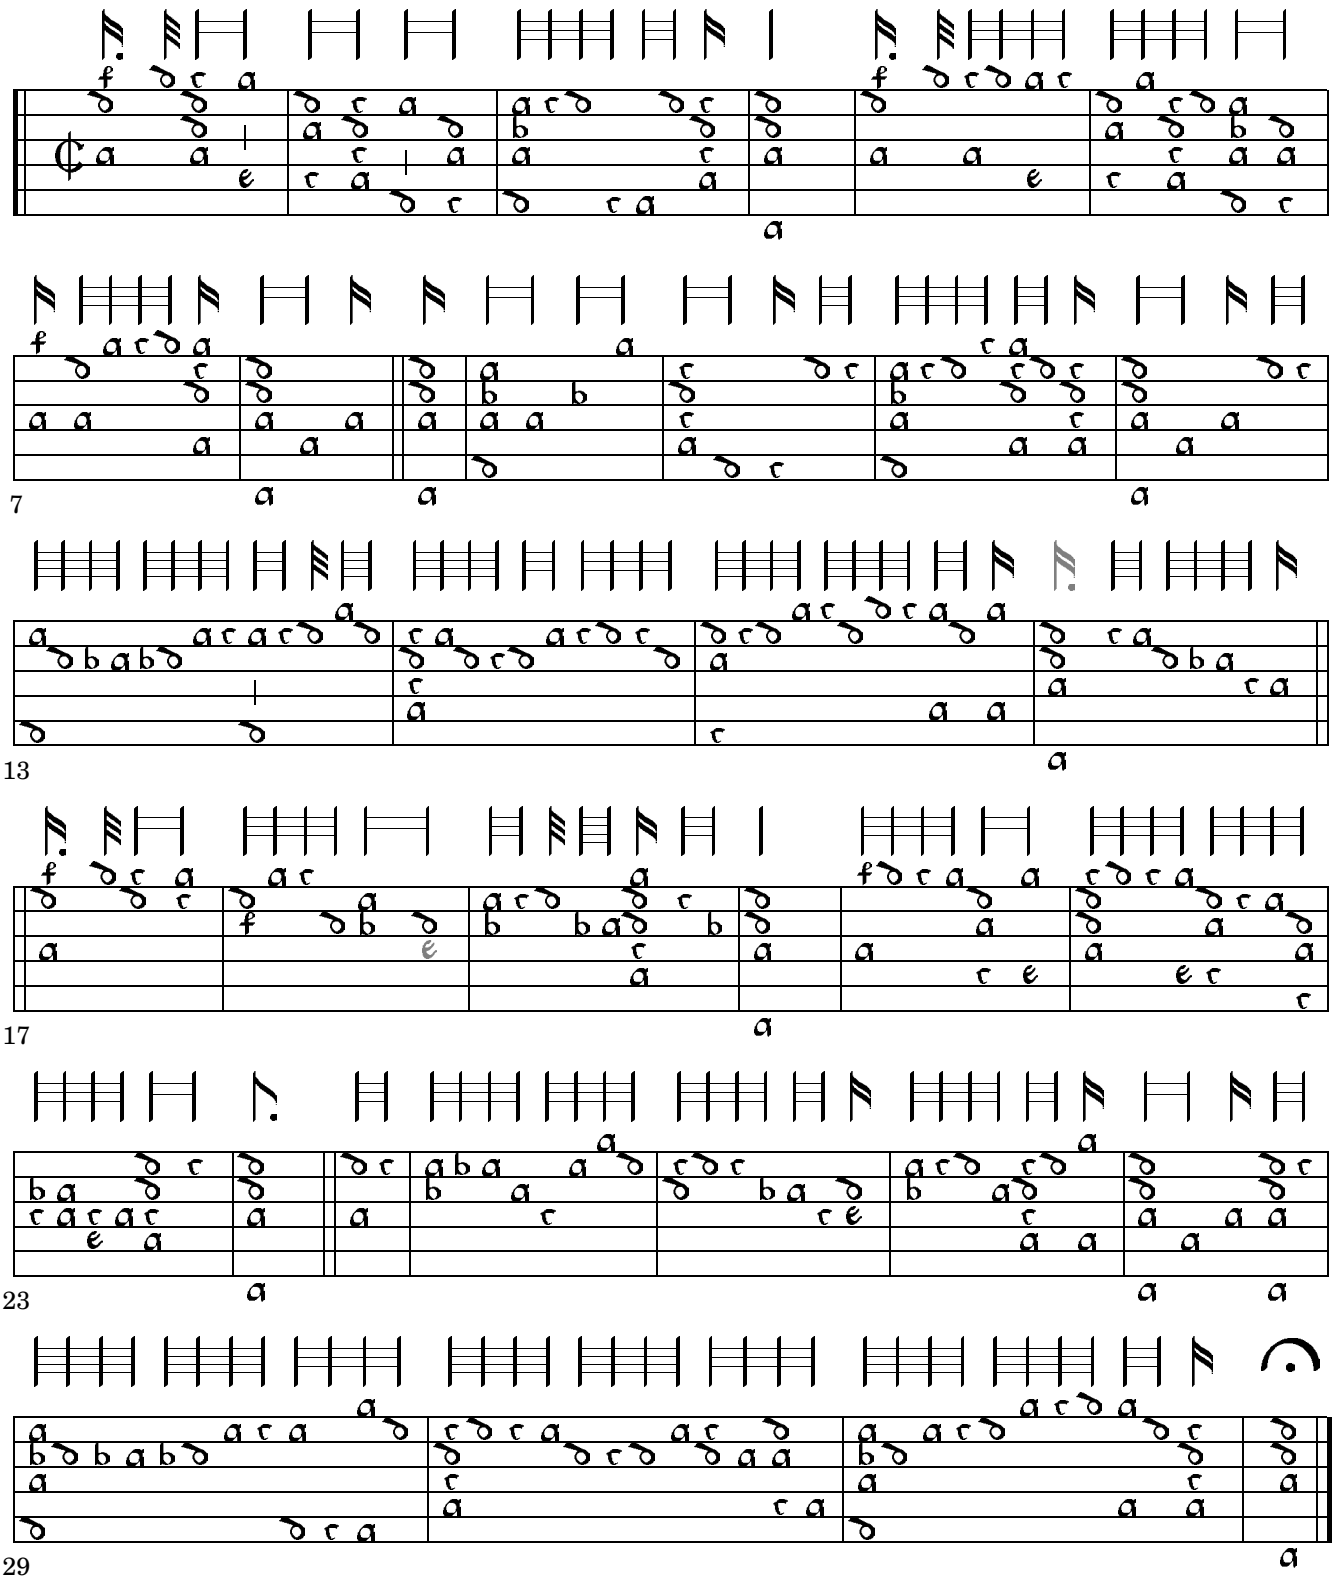

App 6a. Coranto Walter Rowe - lyra viol (ffhfh) A8B8 Stammbuch David von Mandelsloh, p. 470

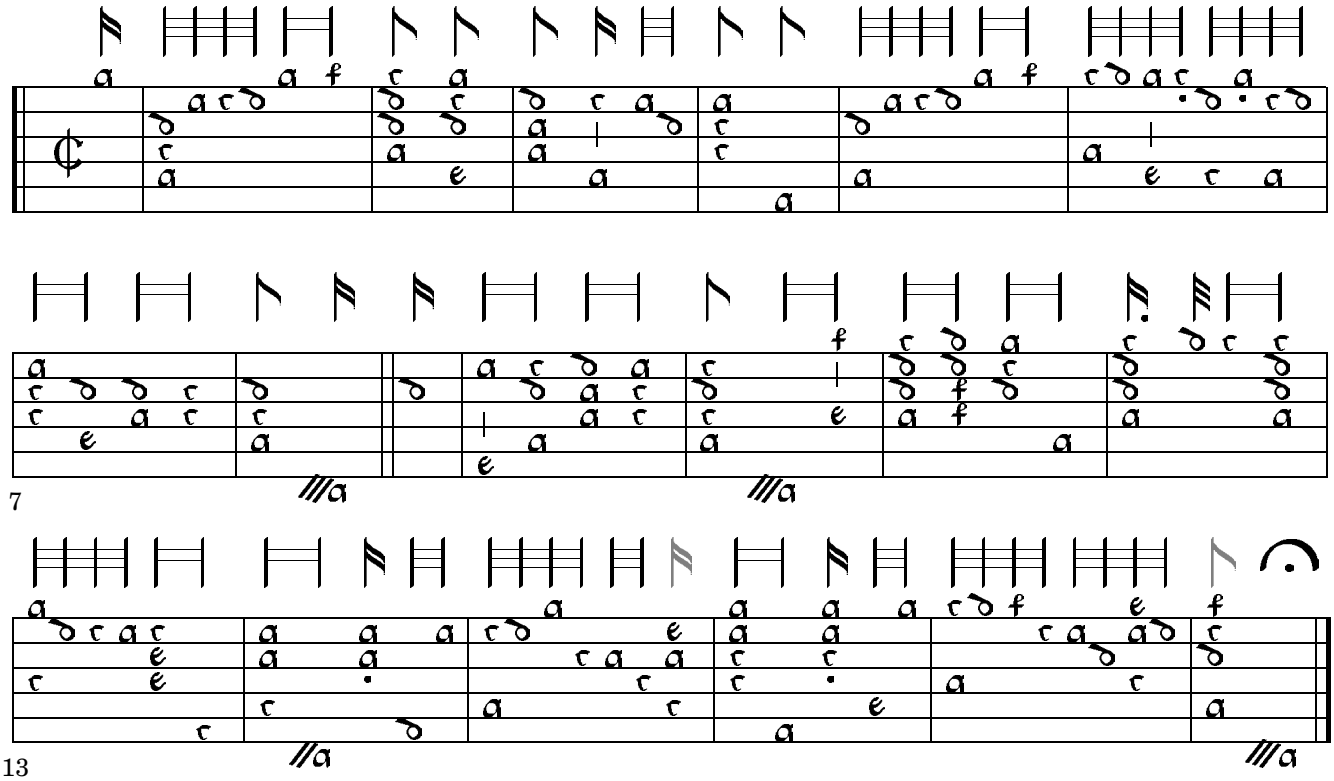

App 6b. Coranto Walter Rowe - transcribed for lute 7F8D A8B8

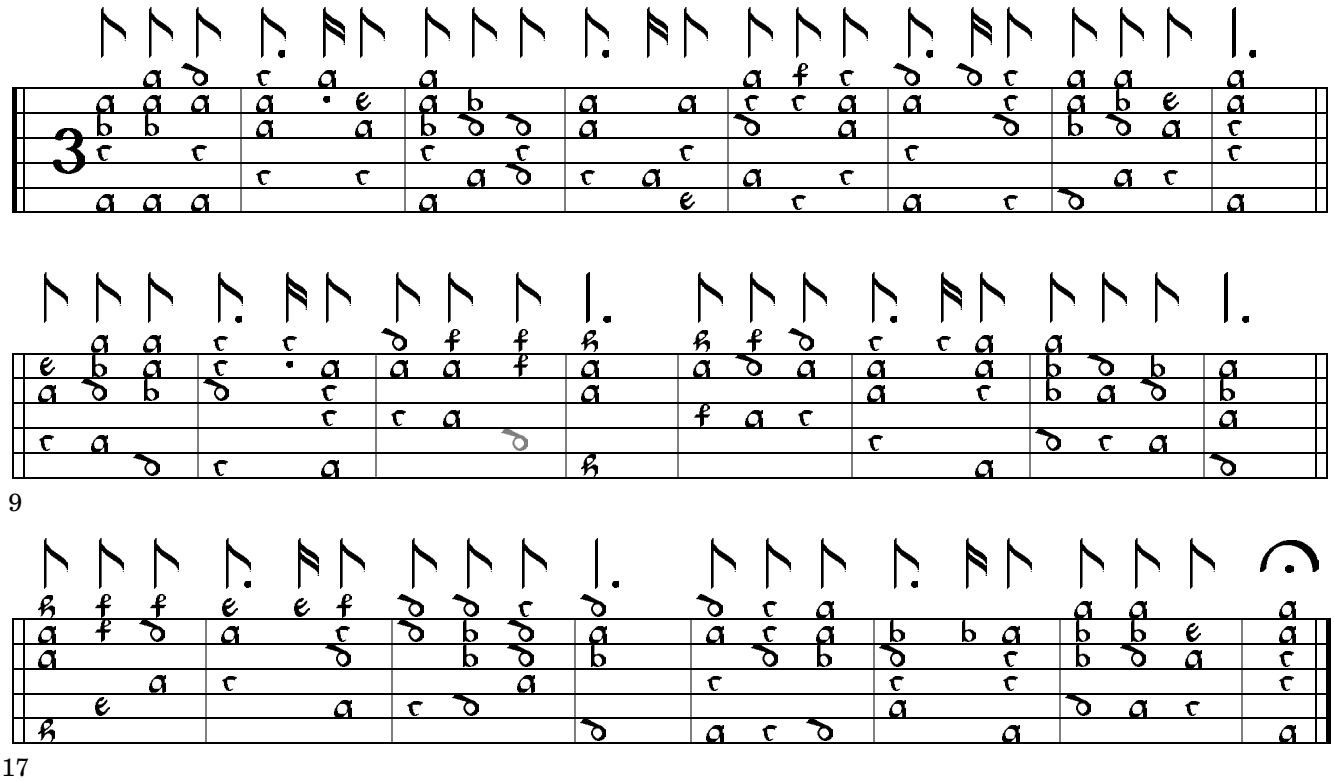

M7. Intrada Mauritij - 7F A8B8A8B8 D-Ngm 33748 I, ff. 52v-53r

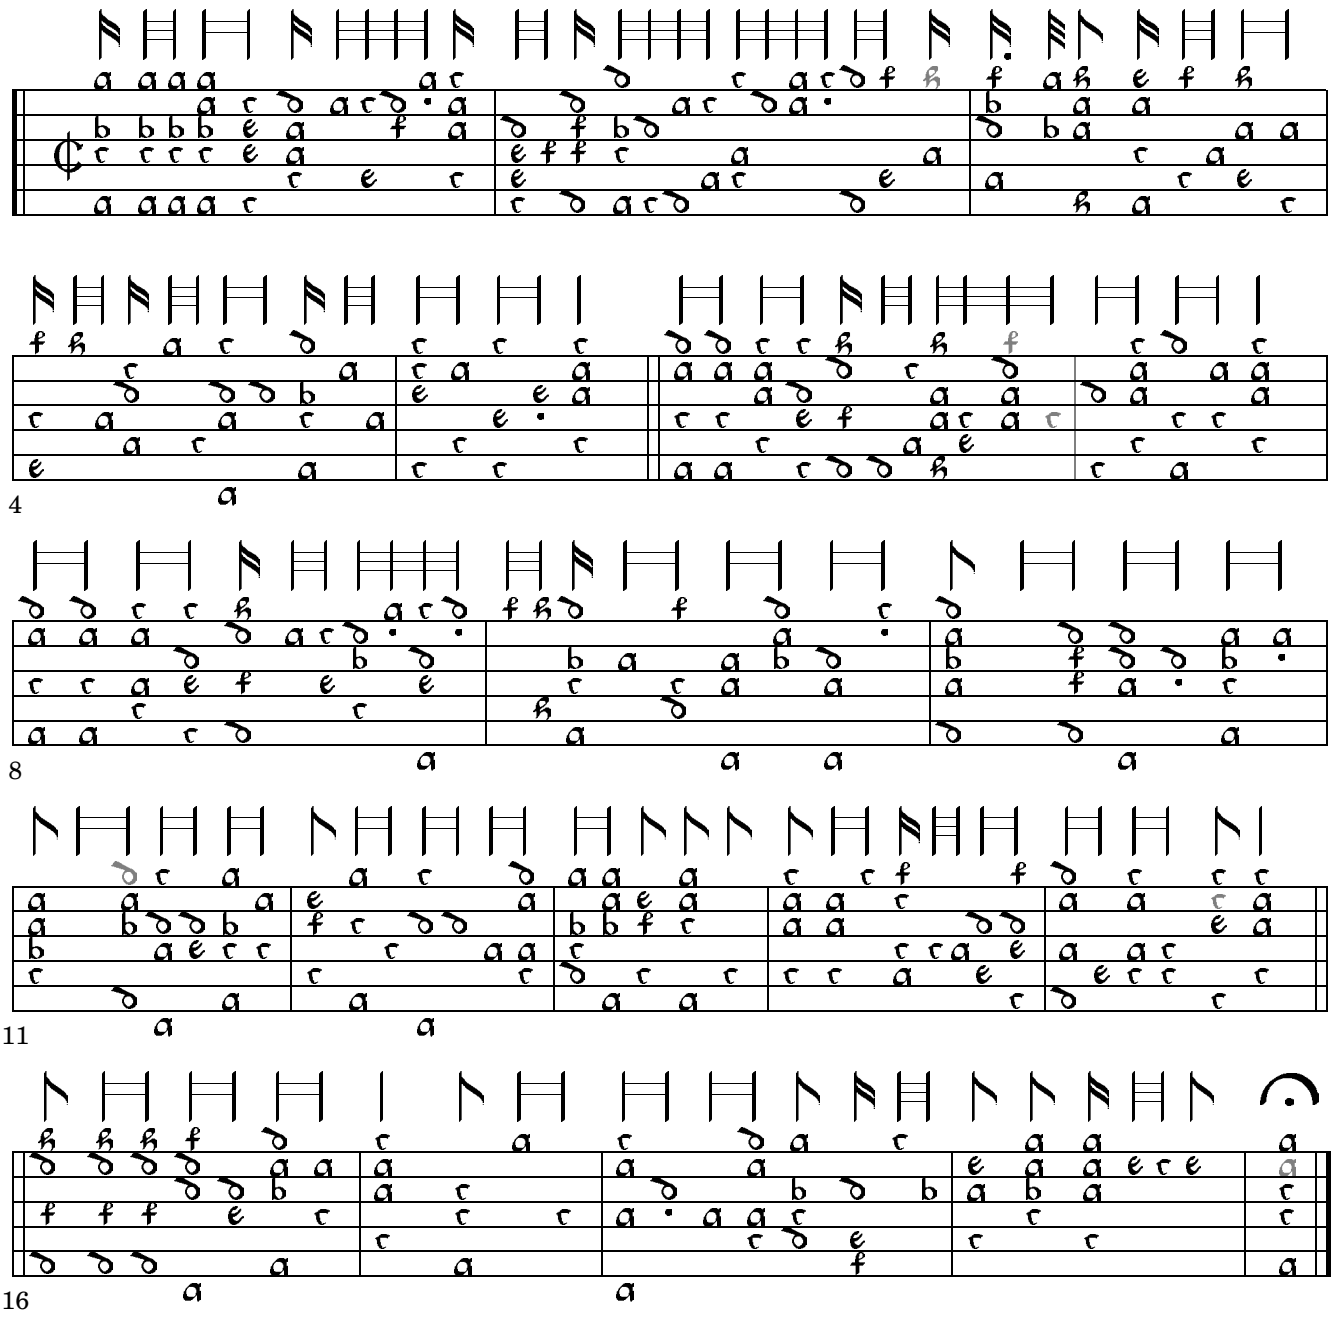

M8. Intrada Mauritij - 9D10C A8B10 D-Ngm 33748 I, f. 57r

App 7. Gagliarda Spavento - A8B8C8 D-Kl 4o.108 I, f. 9r

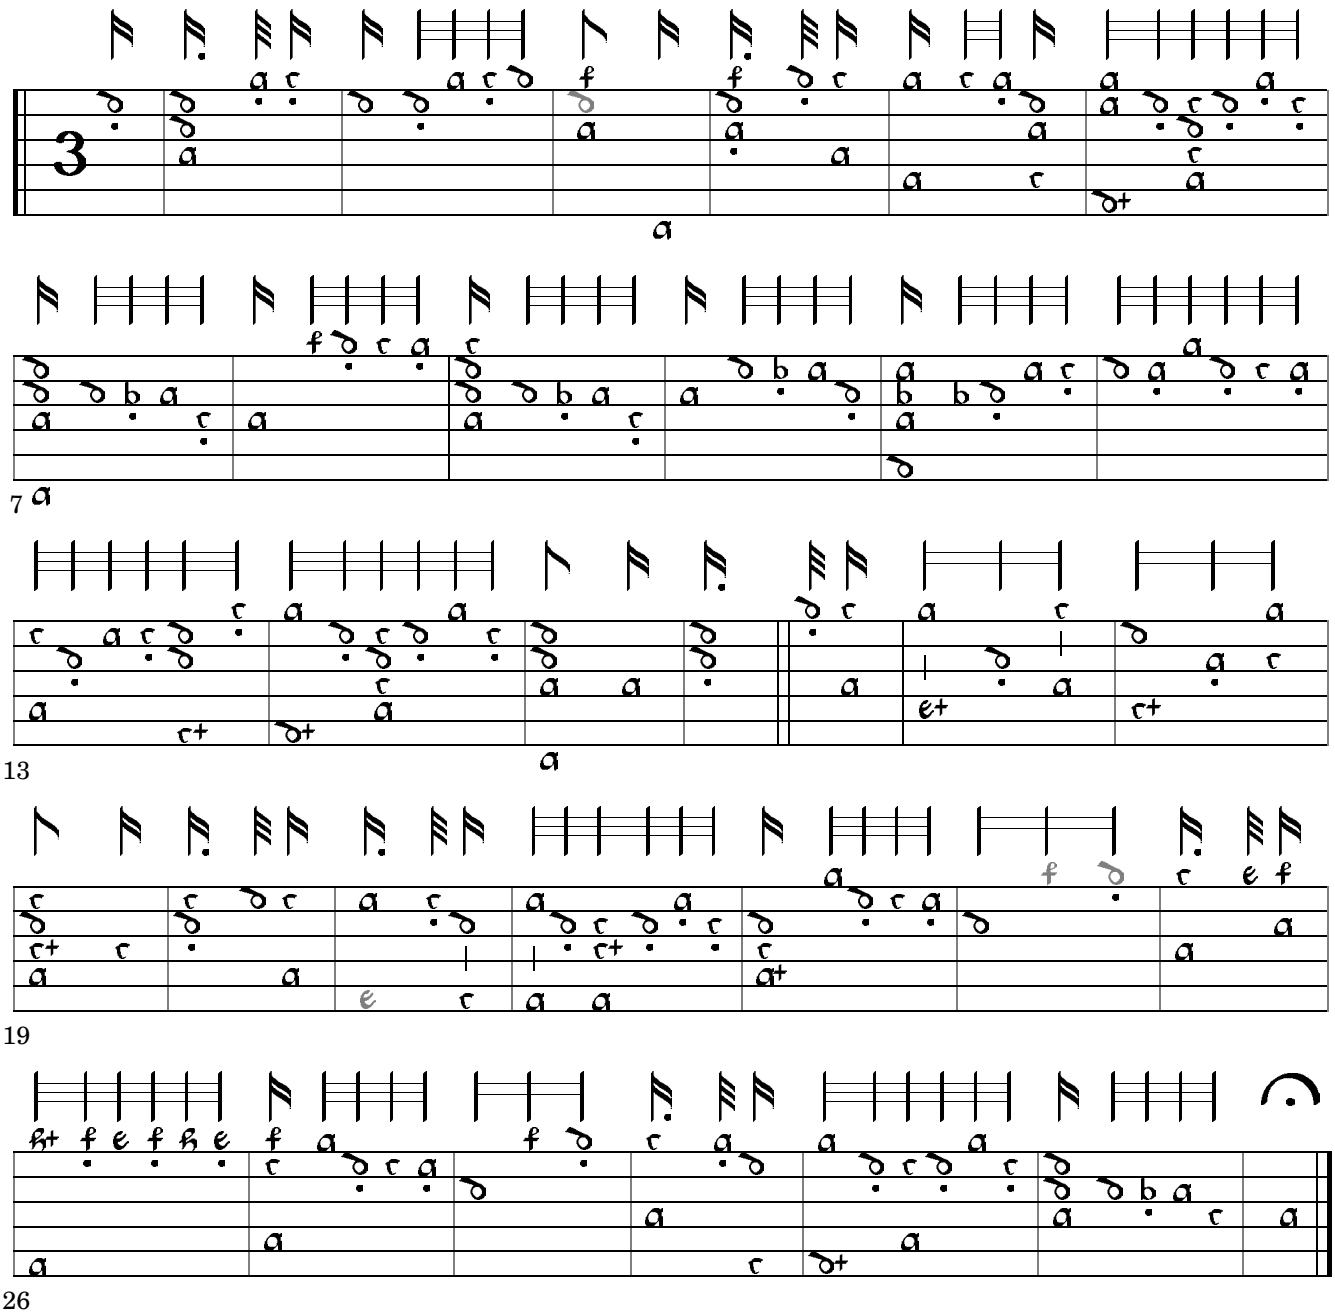

O9. Intrada 9 Alexander Orologio - 7F A5B10C5 A-LIa 475, f. 84v

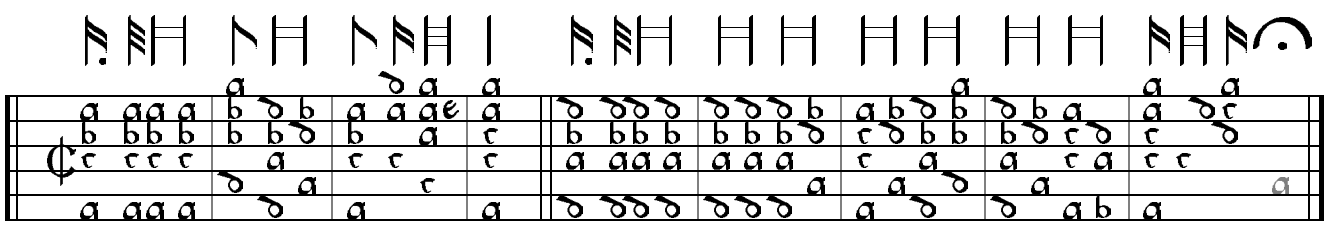

App 8. Schonste zart o schone art - Valentin Haussmann - A4B6 D-LEm II.6.15, p. 427

M9. Courrente M.L.H. - 7F A16B16 D-Kl 4o.108 I, ff. 12v-13r

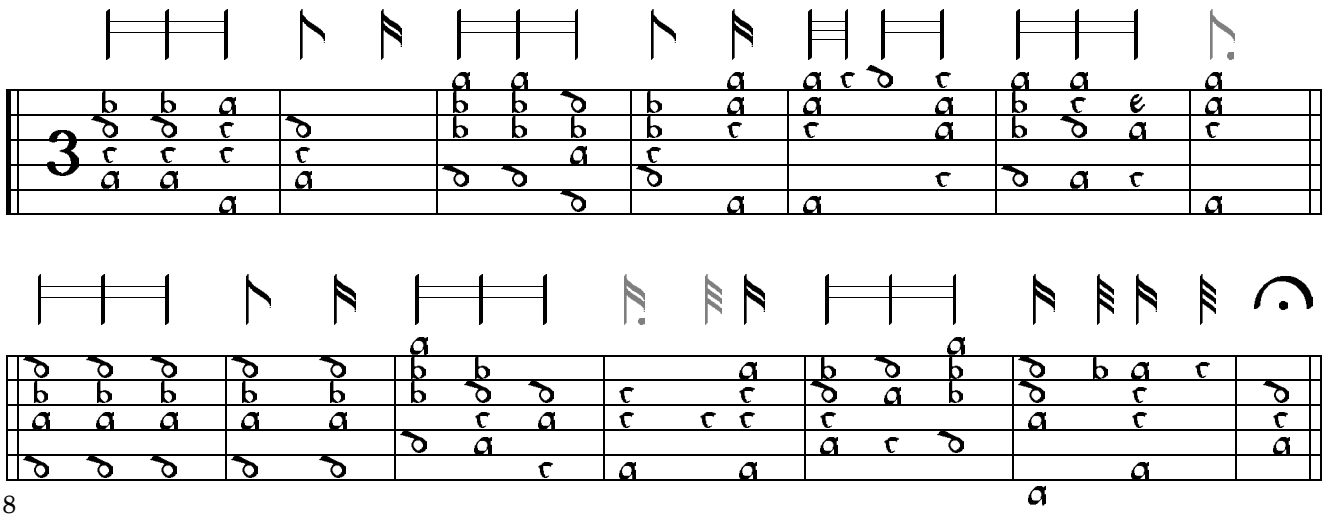

App 9. Sol sich den ihr Lieb so scharen Valentin Haussmann - A4B5 LT-Va 285-MF-LXXIX, f. 13r

O8. Intrada 8 (Alexander Orologio) - 7F A6B4C3 A-LIa 475, f. 84v

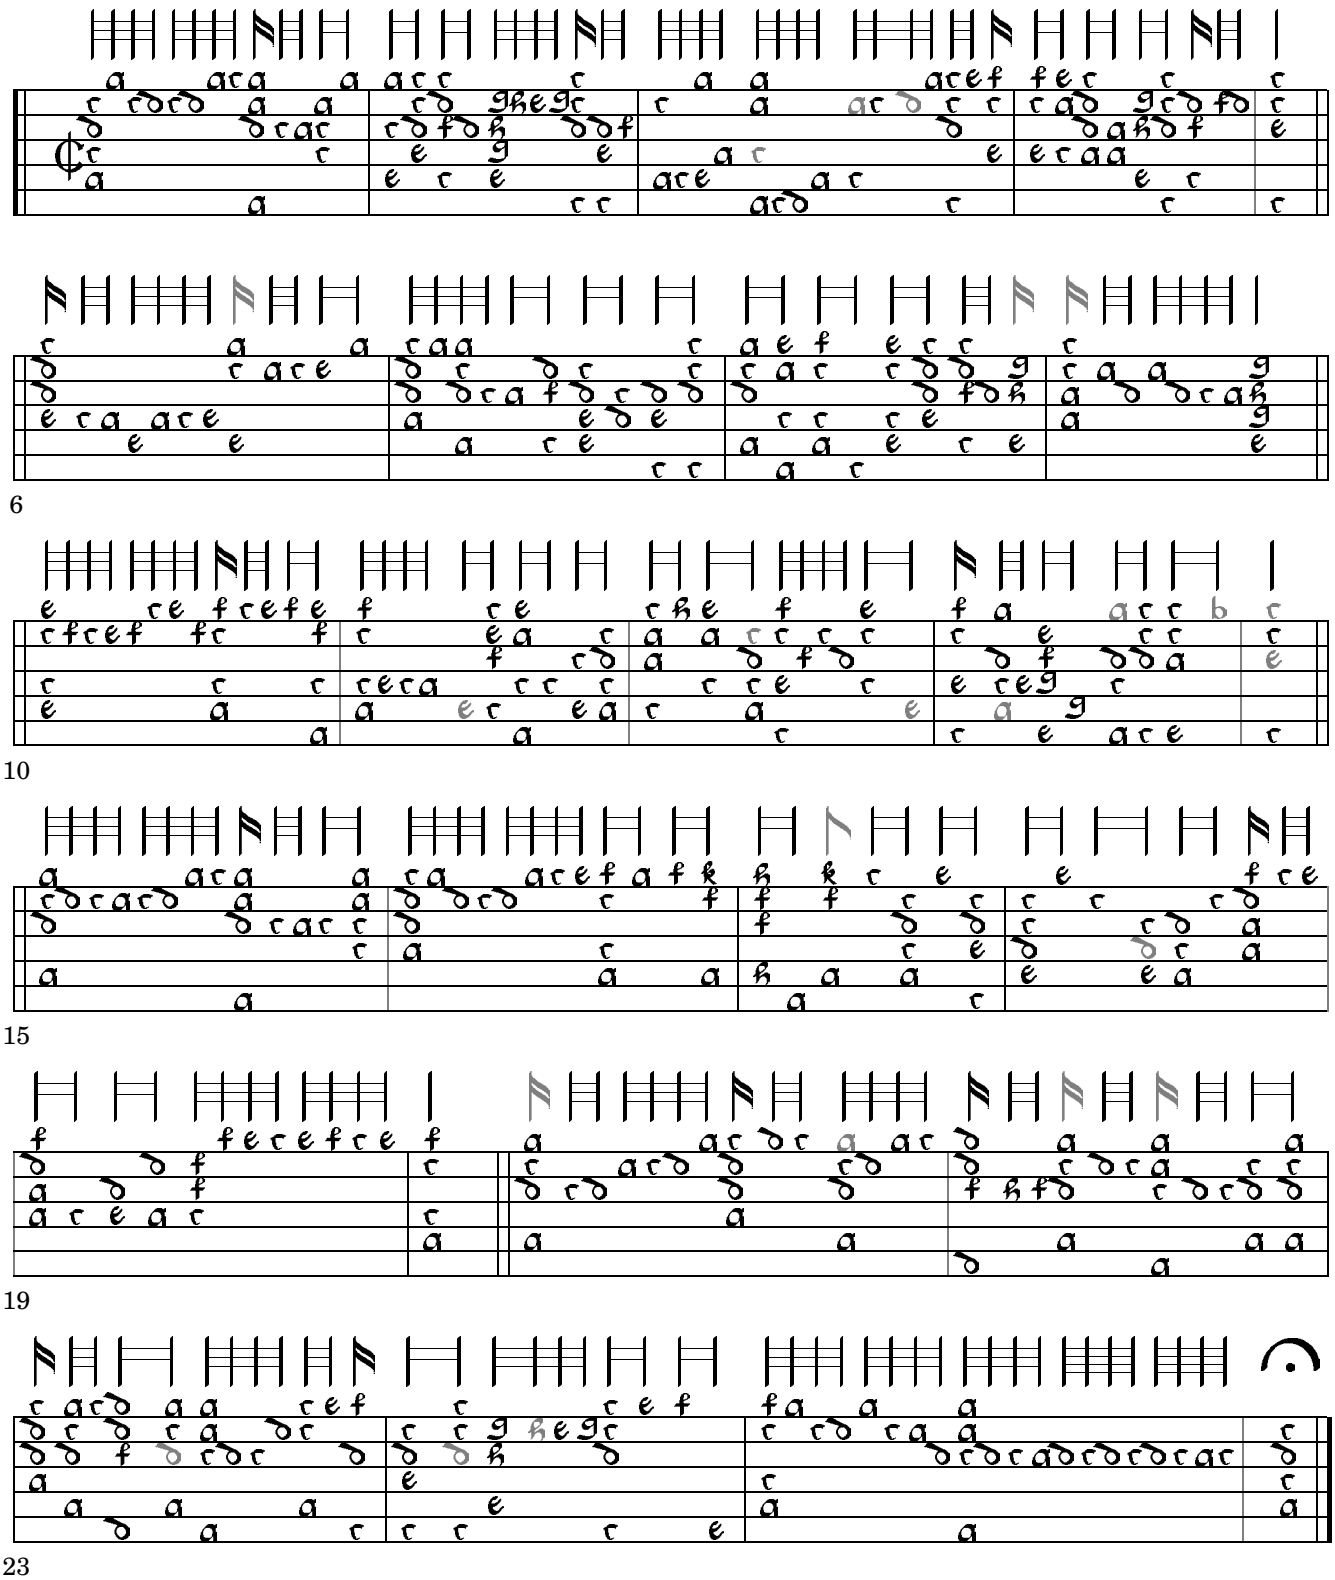

App 10. End euch ainmahl Ihr ohne Zahl - 7F A7B7-C4D9 D-Ngm 33748 I, f. 52r

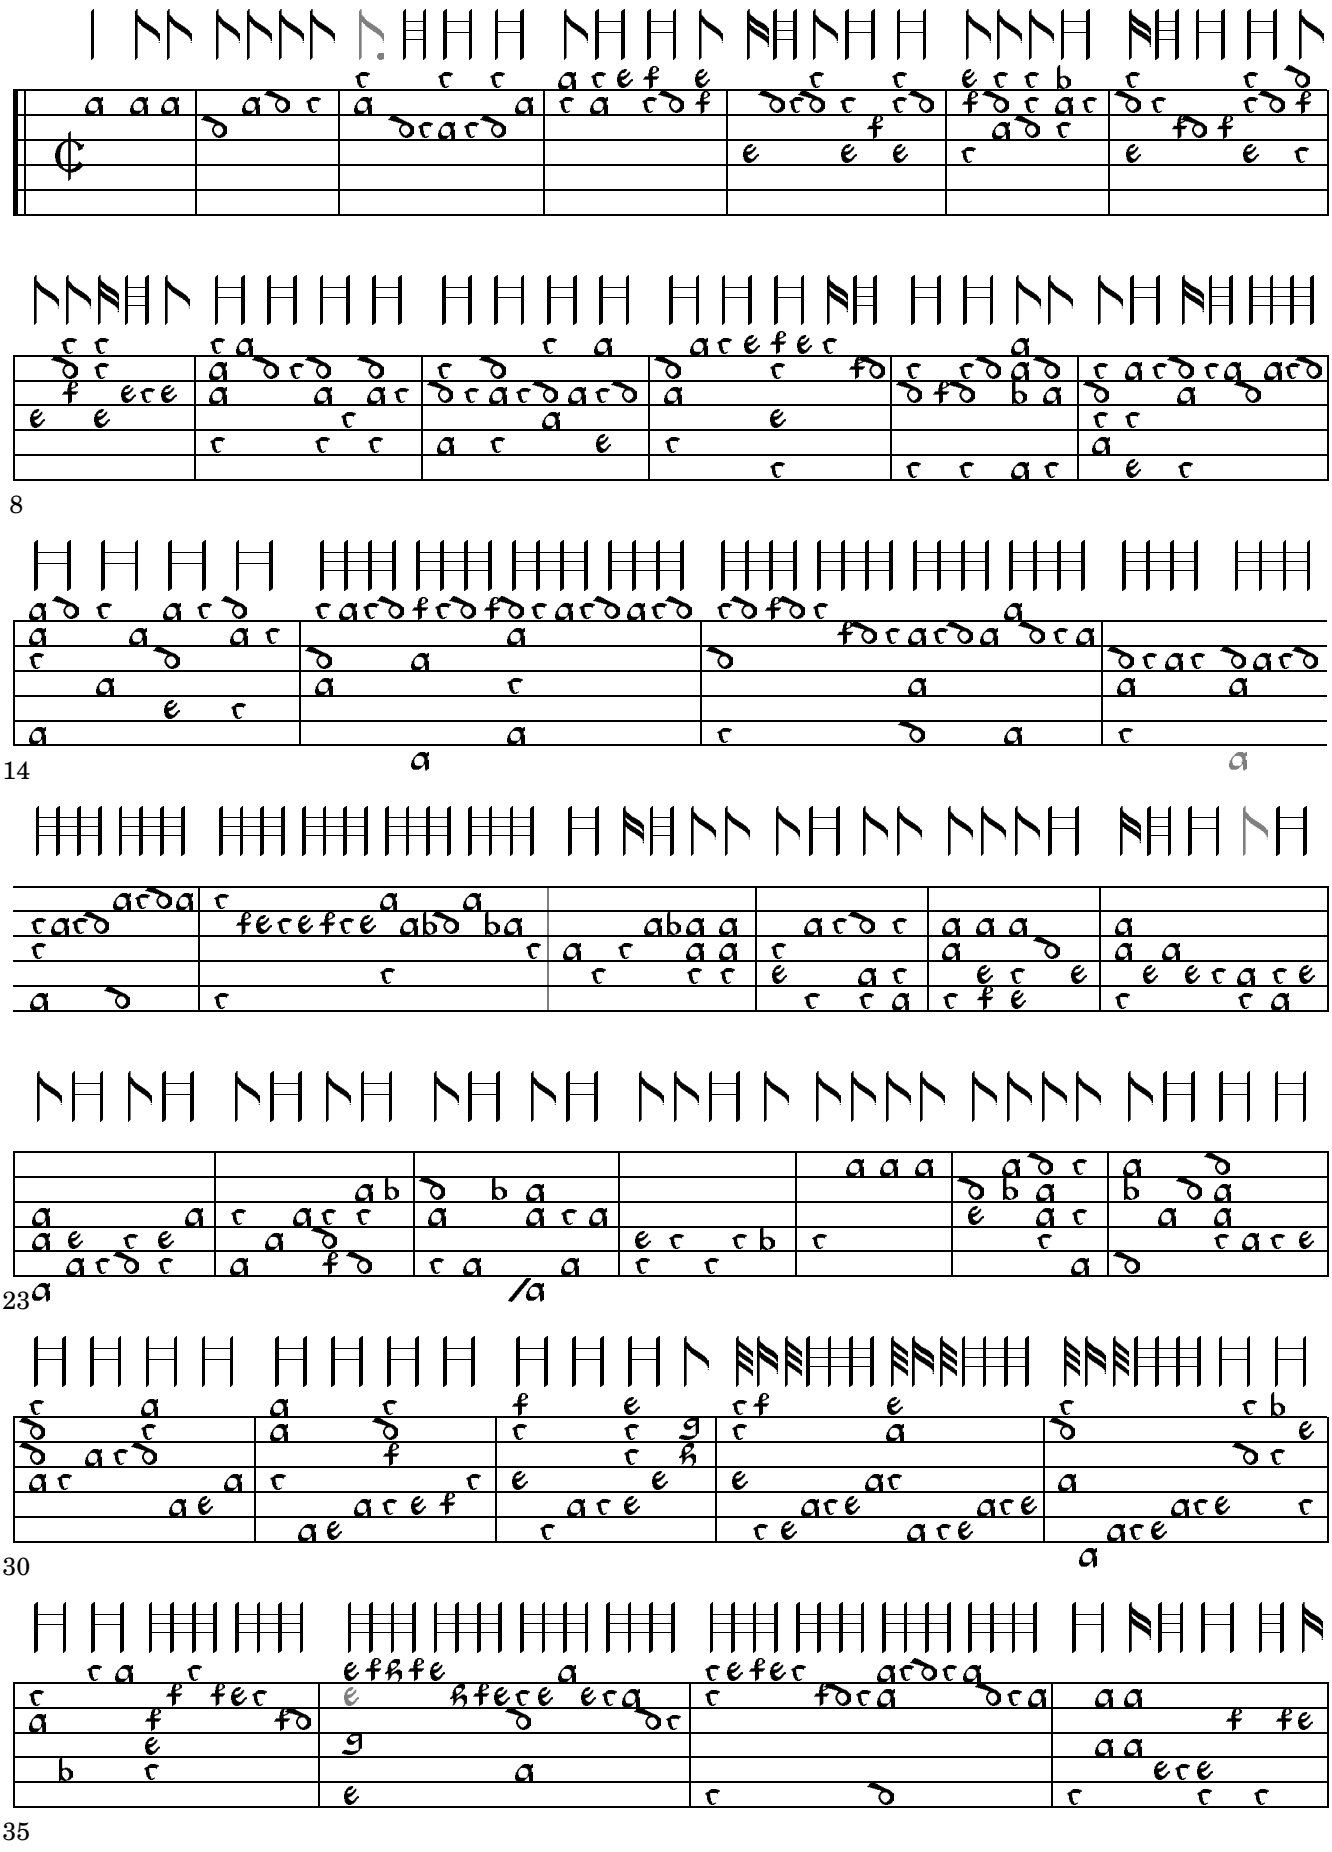

App 11. Fuga Jo: dolandi de Lachrimae his own hande (c.1603) GB-Lbl Add.27579

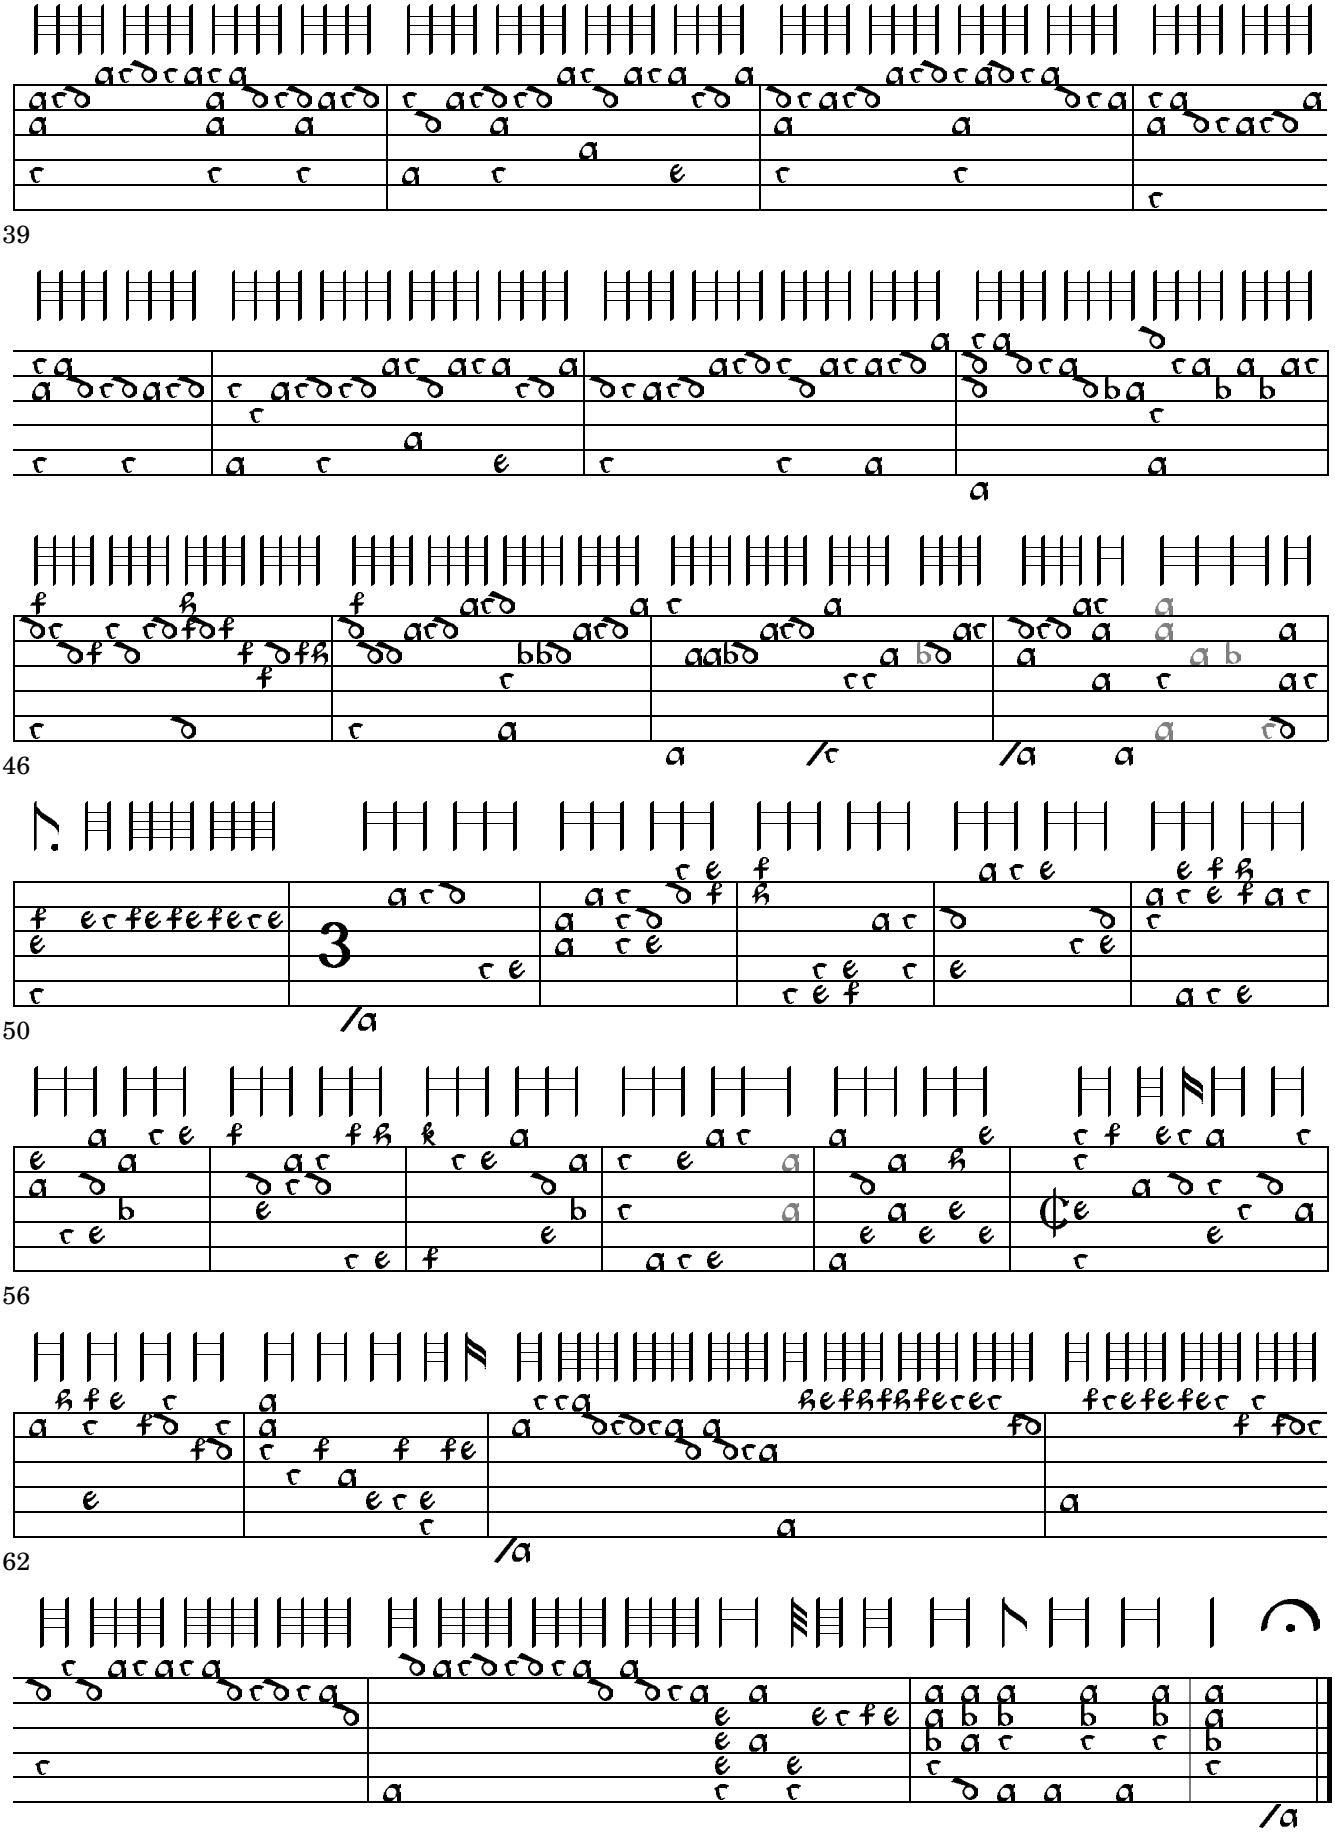

App 12. Pavane Walteri - A5B4C5D6E6 D-LEm II.6.15, pp. 86-87

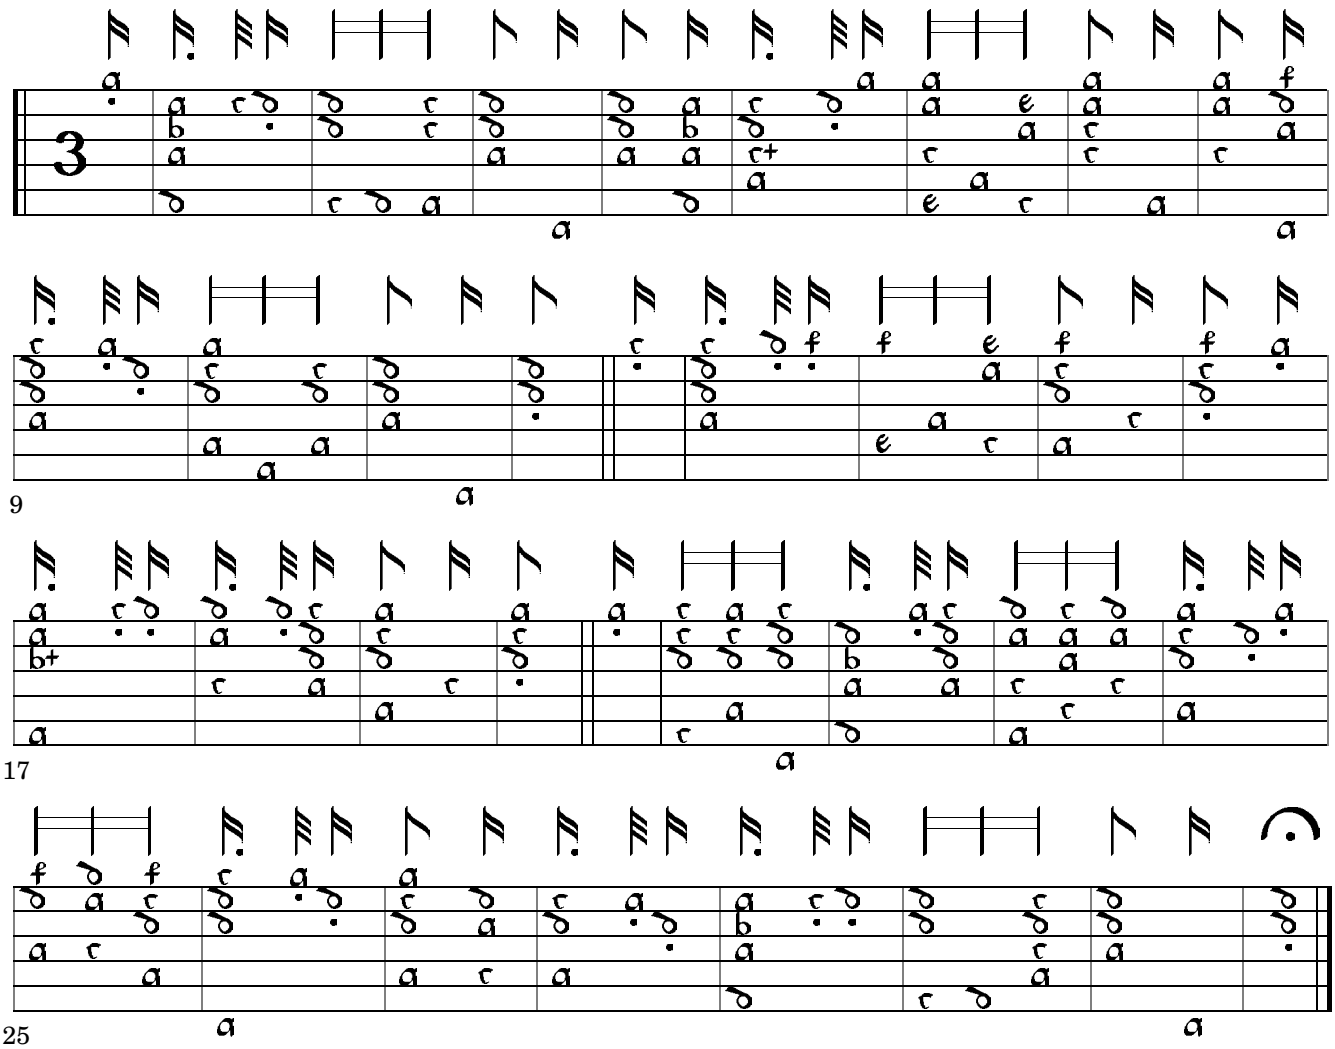

App 13. Fuga super Verleih uns friedt Tobiae Khuhn - 7F8D D-Dl 1-V-8, ff. 42r-42v

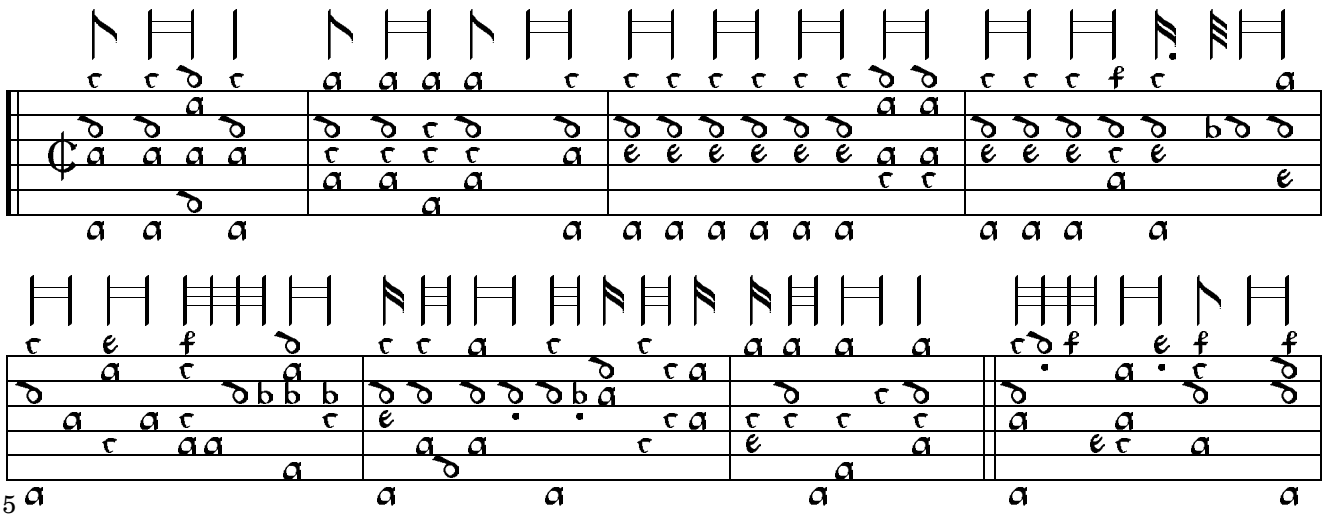

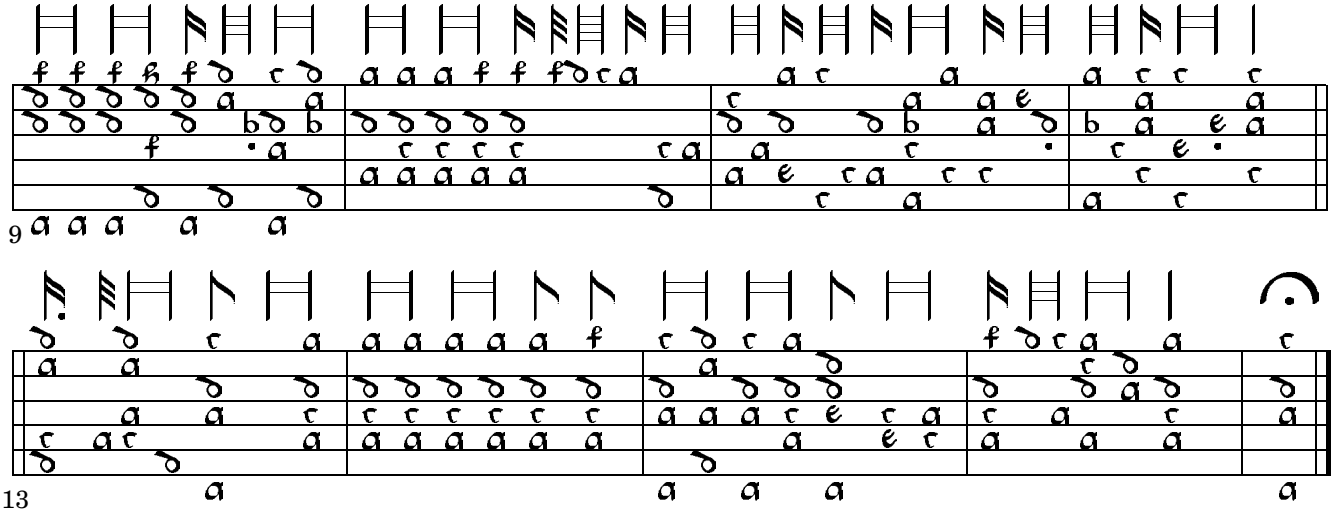

39
46
50
3
56
62

M10. Courrente de la premiere fille d'Hessen M.L.H. - 7F A12B8C12 D-Kl 4o 108 I, f. 15v ii

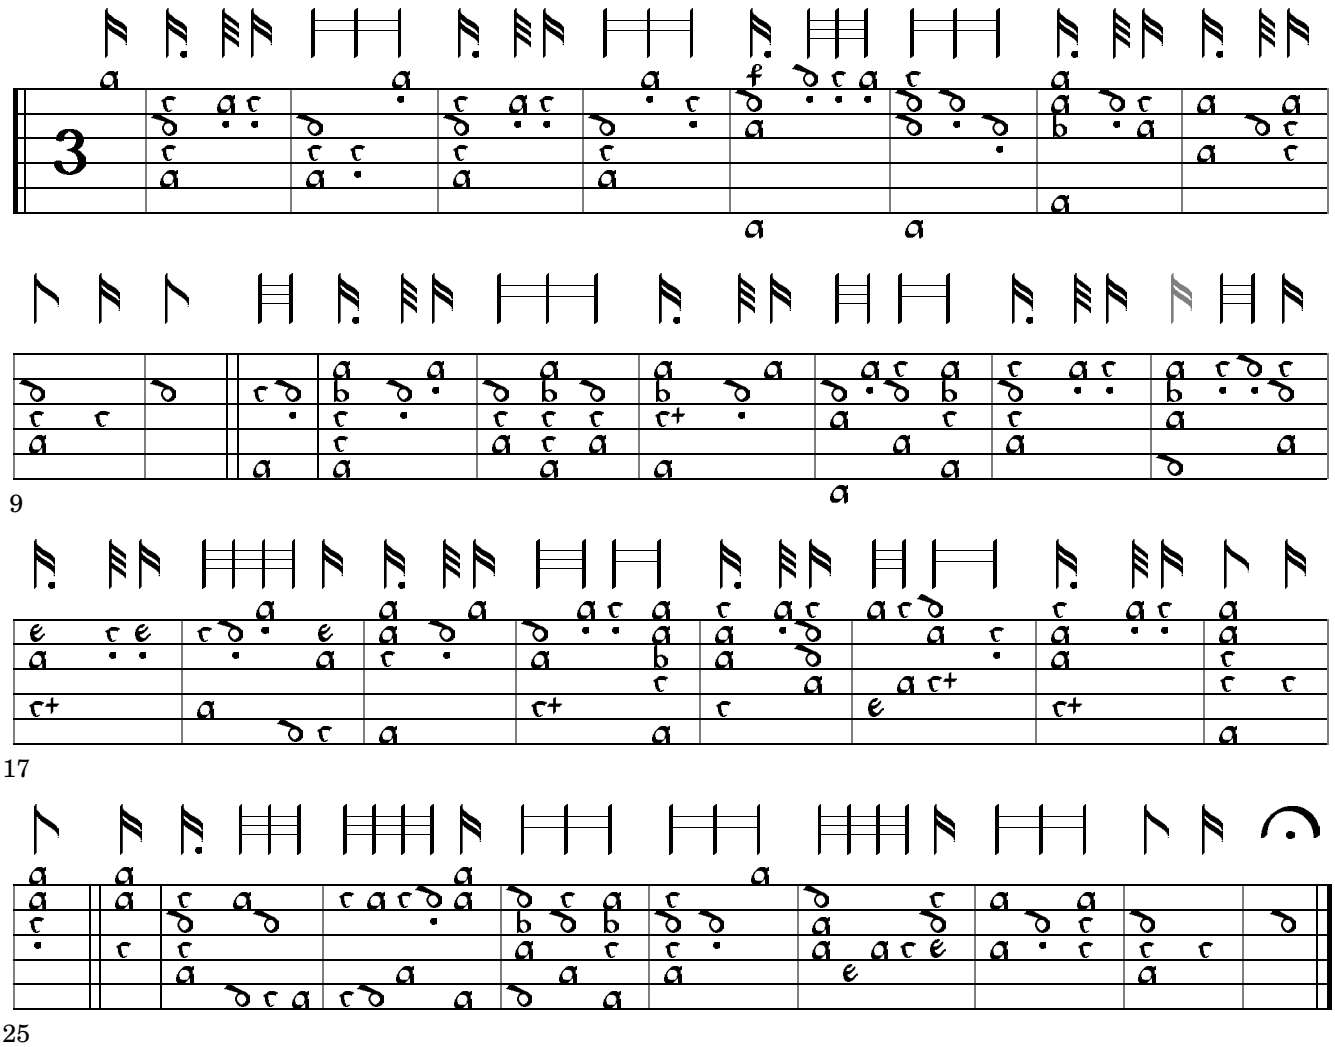

7. Intrada 7 Alexander Orologio - 7F A7B5C5 A-LIa 475, f. 84r

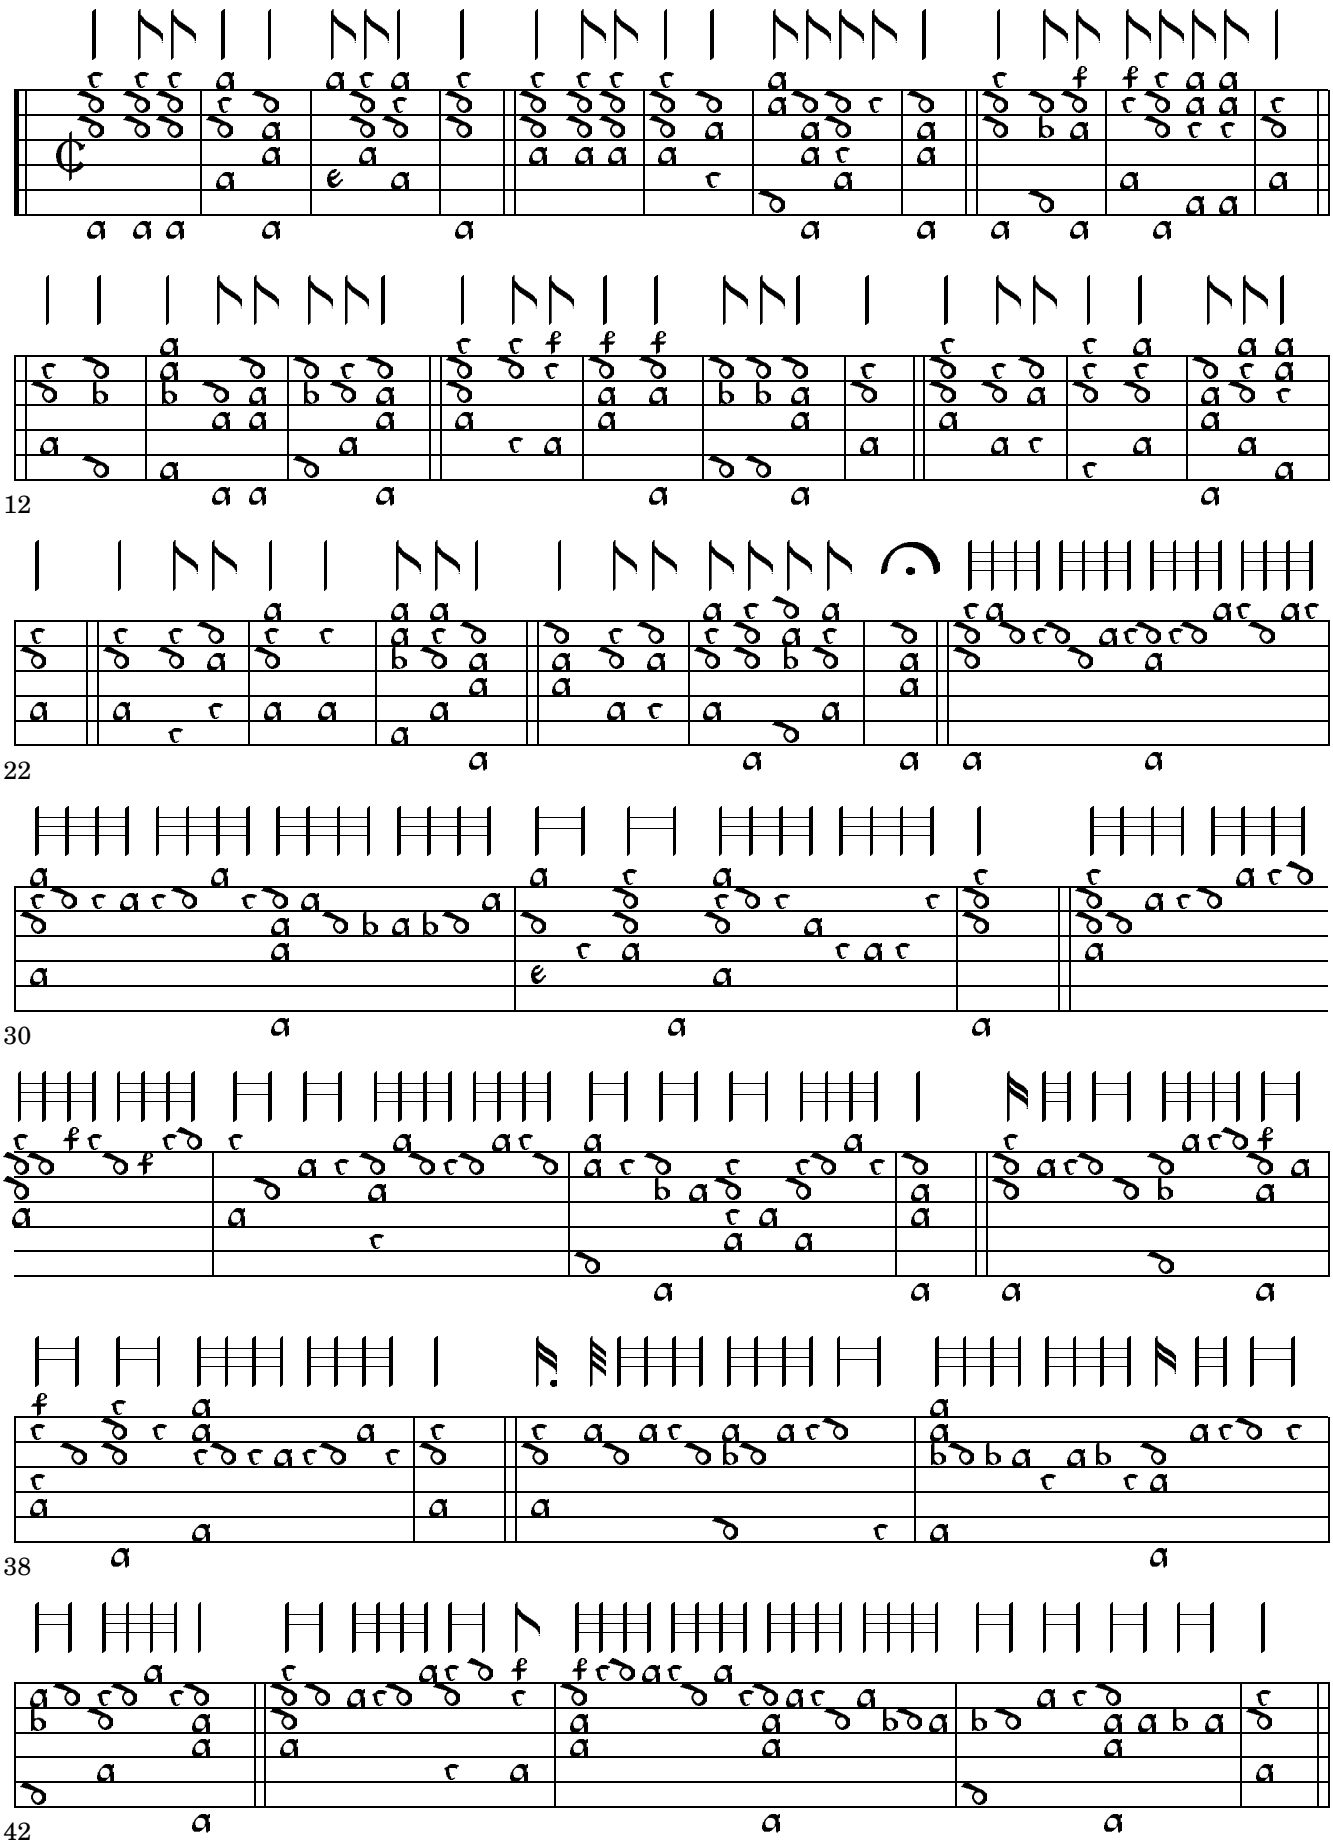

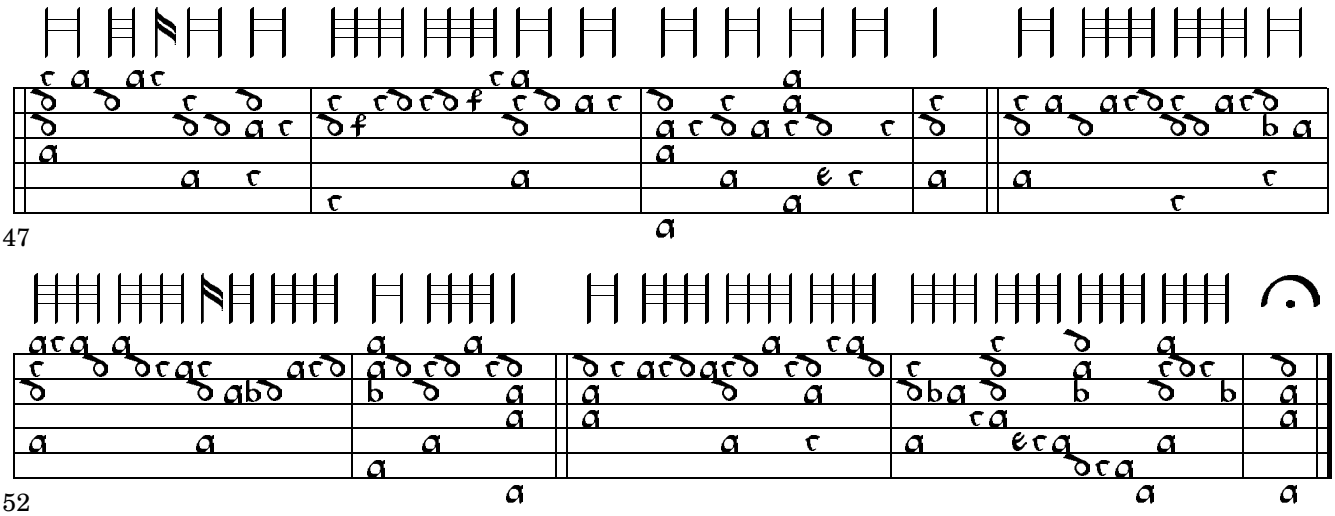

M11. Courrente Blanche et bleuue M.L.H. - 7F A10B15C8 D-Kl 4o 108 I, ff. 15v-16r

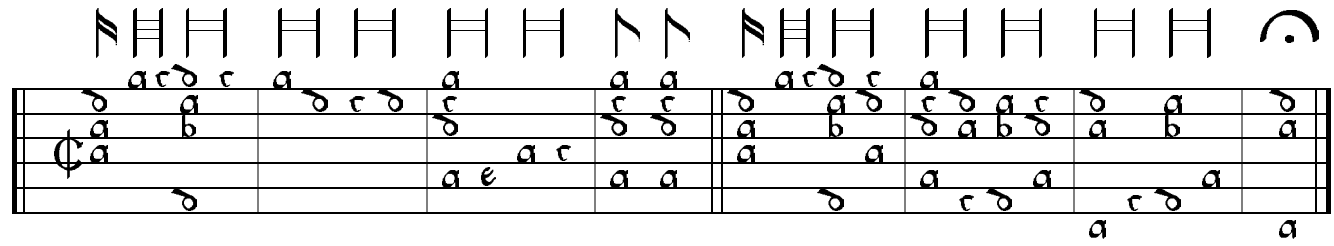

M12. Psalm 82 M.L.H. - Variatio - 7F

Reymann Cythara Sacra 1613, sigs. T4r-V1r

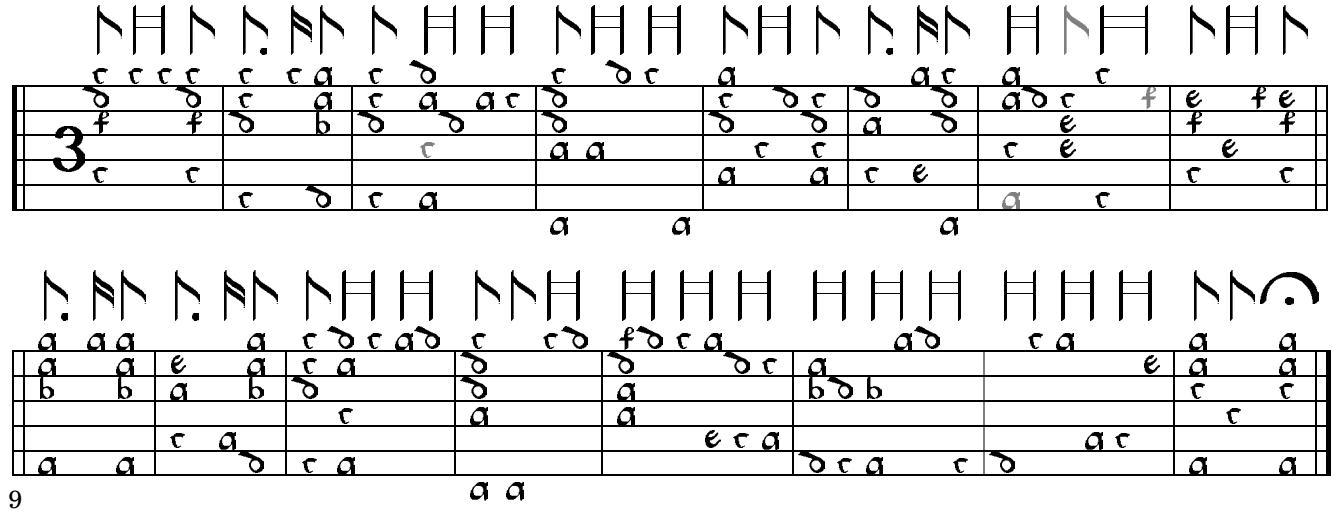

App 14. Tantz mir nicht mit meiner Jungfrou gredten Kathen - Haussmann - 7F A4B4 D-LEm II.6.23, f. 44v

App 15. Galliarda Brade - 7F A8B8 DK-Kk Thott 841,4o, f. 113v

App 16. Volta Thomas Simpson - 7F9D10C A20B21 D-HRD Fu 9829, ff. 17v-18r

